

(Uh-huh. There was always somebody in there too.)

Yeah. Yeah some of them boys come in there drunk you know.

(Yeah)

Them drunks they'd catch them everytime. You get drunk you just have stay in there. Yes sir, they were mean.

(Yeah some of those Indians were mean.)

One of them one time they was, I can't call his name. What's his name?

Zeke Taylor. Yeah he graduated there. He came up there with--oh, what's that boy's name? I believe he was an Otoe. But anyhow they come there.

They hired a livery job out of Arkansas City. And they were drunk. And they started whipping the horses. They run around where there was a barn. Come up by the Home One and Home Two. Home Three, little girls building you know.

(Yeah)

Come up that road you know, where the older boys, they've done tore it down now. Everything different now. And they come up by, I believe Home One and bounced around. They tore around the west side of the building. They tore up the to Home Four, school building. Then come on around that way. Then they crossed the bridge. Crossed the bridge there at the, going east and they turned over right there. Them horses they had, they got tired. They quit the road. They throwed way out. That school bothered me. (Personal words) I can't talk very long I get to coughing. (Coughs)

(Yeah)

When I get to saying something I get to coughing. Along in there somewheres, when the first World War. I had the flu and settle on me.

(Uh-huh)

Everytime I get a bad cold why I can't hardly breathe right.
