I guess she had some of them--when you cook it, it always String beans. be like string, you know--when you eat it. (What about squash and pumpkin--did she plant anything like that?)-She never did plant no squash--she planted pumpkin. She plant pumpkin and things like that. (Where would she get her seeds for her garden?) She buy it. (Did she ever save her seeds--like pumpkin--?) No--oh, yeah. Yeah, she saves pumpkin seeds. (What about her squaw corn--did she ever save seeds of that?) Yeah. (What kind of pumpkins did she have? What did they look like--how bir were they?) Just pumpkins, that's all I know. Like these here pumpkins. [Sometimes' you see these that are sort of little--about this big around, and sometimes you see these great big ones--) Yeah, they're just medium-sized. Some of them, pumpkins, are not too big. She hasn't raised any ral big pumpkins. 'She raiged some that were pretty good sized but wasn't too big like some you see. DRYING PUMPKINS AND CORN (What did she do with all the things that she got from her garden--did you just eat it up right then, or did she ever can any or dry anything?). Oh, no;-she dry some of this pumpkin. I don't know how she did it. She kills them. And she always braided them, I don't know how she braid them-She dried it. just let them cross, I guess. Braided and dried. (Was it--it wasn't dry when she braided it, was it?) Oh, no.
