

here. Some of them rode in on a wagon.

(What other country schools were around here, around Peggs during those early days.)

Well -- .

Molly: Lost City was one of them.

Lost City was one.

(Yeah.)

Frank: And then they had one at oh, New Home down here.

Molly: Now New Home was where I went.

Frank: That's where she went. And uh -- then Shiloh School house.

Molly: And that school house was old when I went.

(Uh-huh.)

There's a graveyard there. And they used to have a -- .

And then there's Downing schoolhouse down here.

(Yeah.)

And uh -- . You know that, I guess Lone Star.

Frank: Lone Star schoolhouse. We had lot of schools all around here then.

ROADS IN EARLY DAYS - SURVEYING

(Well this country through here, Peggs Prairie, is pretty well settled up in those days wasn't it?)

Oh yes, it was settled up. But they had a, back then, I don't guess hardly anyone knows where their land was really, 'cause there wasn't no section line.

(Uh-huh.)

And the roads out here to Tahlequah, you start to Tahlequah the roads just went around through the woods. If a tree fell over in the road, they just drove around it and kept a going.
