

Well they come out from Hulbert. Well we got ready and we went . Well we had to stay all night in Hulbert at a hotel. And we went on to Muskogee the next day. That was the first I remember ever getting on a train: 'Course when I rode when I was two weeks old. I don't remember. We went on to Muskogee. We stayed nearly all day. But we caught the train back to Hulbert that evening some time. And got to Hulbert just as it was getting dark. Well he was--he didn't come with us. He stayed in Muskogee. I guess he was going back to Bartlesville, some way. I don't know how he was. Catch a train I guess. Well he give us the money to pay our hotel bill and nights lodging. And then he paid the jitney to bring us home the next day. I don't know how much money he gave her. He give it to her. And he said "Now I'm supposed to pay your way there and back." And he give her money to pay her hotel. Lodging that night. Her supper and breakfast. Then he paid a man to bring her out here. Well it happened when dad got home. He found out we was gone and we told grandmother. My grandmother lived with us. And the other children stayed with her. So when we got to Hulbert. My dad was there waiting for us. He'd come after us. Well she didn't know what to do with the money he give us. And dad said you can give it to me, I come after you, he said. And have to wait until you get home to eat supper. Or you can eat now. (Laughter). Never will forget. She had a small baby. I don't know which one of the children it was. She had a small baby.
