

(On Elk River. Uh-huh)

Had a graveyard there.

(Yeah)

Small graveyard, old timers.

(Well that was getting close to Seneca country wasn't it--)

Yeah.

(Up in there? Well you saw that country before they had good roads and everything in there?)

Yes. Out there by where Sarah Cheater on south of there on White Water there.

(Uh-huh)

Now they call that Cheater Graveyard.

(Cheater Graveyard. That's good farming land in there, isn't there?)

Yeah:

(In places. And that's pretty country too.)

Yeah.

LOCATIONS OF SEVERAL MORE COURTHOUSES

(Well where did the Indians have their meetings in that country, or did they have uh--)

They didn't have very many, I don't recollect.

(Yeah, well do you remember anything about that Indian Courthouse up there close to Zena or somewhere?)

That would have been south of Grove wasn't it?

(Yeah south of Grove.)

I believe what they call, I remember it. I remember well I can remember where they had Grounds Courthouse, far as courthouse go.

(Yeah)

It's right off down in that little hollow there. There was an Indian woman
