

Jenny: Was it Lawrence Berry or that other one that the cemetery was name after? Lived up on the river there? Which one of the Berry's did they name the cemetery after? Lived up on the river?

Flint: Lived over there.

Jenny: He wants to know how Berry Cemetery got its name. Named after one of those Berry's, which one? Lawrence or--

Mr. Flint: Mize, I believe it was him. There was several others used it.

(Uh-huh)

Mr. Flint: They owned a ford and a ferry boat.

(Yes sir. It's hard to believe that (words not clear).

Yeah there used to be one old road come right up through here, up through that hill way out here.

(Uh-huh)

Jenny: Cemetery was named after Lawrence Berry because he lives right there.

Frank Connor lived where Glen Bucks lived and he was a preacher and he had all the funerals. They had them right out there at the cemetery.

(Uh-huh)

Lady: He married most of the people around.

(Well)

MORE ABOUT CERTAIN PERSONS AND THE TOWN OF OGEECHEE

Jenny: And one of the buildings that's up town was moved from right over here in our field. It belonged to Jim Corckett's dad. Aline Carpenter lives in it now. They moved it from Bill Crockett moved to Fairland. He wanted to build a new house about 2 years ago. So moved it right down across from--well Miss Curry lives right here, and it's the second house.

(Uh-huh.)

Jenny: That's Mr. Joe Dempsey's place there.
