

the Indian type of coffin. They used walnut lumber, so fitting it that it was air tight when sealed. In his time he says he has made many coffins. He recalls one old Indian who made a coffin out of a solid walnut log and fitting a separate lid of walnut, sealing the top on with pine tar pitch.