The following is the opinion of the late Lord Chancellor, of Lord Chancellor, Blount & Flipps, deceased, of the King's Subjects from the Indian, or Native, Princes or Governments, where Majesty's Letters Patent are not necessary. The property, of the Soil, vesting in the Grantee, by the Indian Grants, subject only to your Majesty's Right of Sovereignty over the Settlements, as English Settlements, and over the Inhabitants, as English Subjects, who carry with them your Majesty's Laws, wherever they form colonies and receive your Majesty's Protection, by virtue of your Royal Charters.

The above is a true copy, compared in London, the first day of April, 1772,

Taken from the Original, in the Hands of Samuel Wharton. W.S.
Opinions of Dr. Chen
Camden & L. Chen
York