Today we shall deal with St. Pat. Our Engineers fine he begat.
He made lots of mistakes
But ran out the snakes
Said “Eringo braugh” and he sat.
In Erin’s lore he became
A hero of immaculate fame.
But this wonderous man
Never saw a divan.
Isn’t that now quite a shame!

When old St. Pat did retire
And in snakeless dreams would expire
He never was bless’t
With a Beautyrest* *
And genuine slumber acquire.
Engineers now get the breaks.
They’re after a new kind of snakes.
As St. Patrick has said
“We’ll all go to bed
After throwing the lawyers in lakes.”

---

The American Association of Engineers is an active organization devoted to the personal and professional welfare of the Engineer from the social and economic standpoint. The Oklahoma Division consists of three live chapters headquartered at Oklahoma City, Tulsa and Muskogee. Special membership rates are available to Engineering students. For further information write to Furber Smith, Secretary, Oklahoma City Chapter, 1145 Northwest Second Street, Oklahoma City, or attend one of our weekly luncheons any Saturday at 12:15 in the Wilson Room of the Skirvin Hotel.

Oklahoma City Chapter A. A. En