Did you know...?

- The University of Oklahoma Foundation, Inc., was organized to accept and administer gifts for the University in aid of charitable, educational, scientific, and literary purposes.
- It is operated exclusively for the benefit of the University of Oklahoma.
- The Foundation is governed by a Board of Trustees comprised of some of the leading business and professional men of the Southwest. The Trustees are elected by the members of the Foundation. Membership is determined by contributions of $100 or more. An annual meeting of the members is held on the third Wednesday of April of each year.
- There are many ways in which Foundation donors may save on income, estate, and inheritance taxes. The Foundation is recognized by the Bureau of Internal Revenue as a tax-exempt organization and gifts to it are deductible under the federal tax laws.
- There is no such thing as a 100 per cent state-supported college or university anywhere in the country. All such educational institutions draw their support from both public and private sources. The Foundation is a means for the University of Oklahoma to receive this valuable and necessary private support.
- Giftsto the Foundation may be made for specific or unrestricted purposes, and in various forms. Types of gifts include: cash, securities, wills and bequests, life insurance, literary and artistic collections, and real or personal property.
- Individuals may even establish funds with the Foundation reserving a life income for themselves or other designated beneficiaries (annuities). Every gift to the Foundation is an investment—an investment in America and its present and future generations of students.
- The University of Oklahoma received nearly $2,300,000 in gifts and grants during the school year 1958-59. This assistance came from many sources enabling the University to achieve outstanding results in virtually every field of study. Gifts to the Foundation help provide the University of Oklahoma that important margin of excellence.
