Alf, all of us have job to do...

Within the limits of military necessity all of us must carry on with our business and professions. We must make every advertising message count...never was the printed word more important than it is today!

Maintaining contacts with good customers, retaining good will in the face of interrupted production, finding new markets...is a job for paper and printing. Let us help you solve your problem...we have a department that will step in and be of genuine service to you...write to ED SNOW
