Now or Never

An all-school show, a treasure hunt and election of a Man of Dis-stinkshun highlighted campus activities during Now or Never days, February 20 and 21. More than 2,500 students took an active part in festivities.

Delta Delta Delta sorority and the Phi Gamma Delta piano duet topped high honors at the Sooner Scandals, first of the Now or Never features. Mrs. James Nielsen, of the Oklahoma City University faculty; Earl Wilhite, choir director at Classen High School, Oklahoma City, and Max Scism, speech instructor at Capitol Hill High School, were judges for the event.

Co-directors Sudie Grantham, Ryan, and Hi Roberts Laird, El Reno, presented the awards to Jo Morgan, Oklahoma City, representing Tri Delta, and Jim Miller and Tommy Hatcher, both of Tulsa, the Phi Gam piano team.

Prospectin', held Saturday afternoon, found teams from organized houses searching for everything from empty bird cages to live mice. Pi Beta Phi and Phi Kappa Sigma groups were named winners by Dr. Glenn Couch, dean of the University College, Miss Dorothy Truex, counselor of women, and Dr. A. K. Christian, professor of history. Charles Hale, Moore, directed the Prospectin'. Wooden plaques were given the two teams.

Election of the Man of Dis-stinkshun was the high spot of the Stakers' Stomp, all-school dance held in the Union Ballroom Saturday evening. Quinton Peters, former editor of the Oklahoma Daily, was crowned by Catherine Stewart, Norman, who had charge of the race. Runners up were Bill Parks, representing Pi Kappa Alpha, and Ernie Jameson, Sigma Chi. Peters was sponsored by Whitehand hall.

Decorations at the dance were done by Darryl Whitehurst. Caricatures of the candidates for Man of Dis-stinkshun were featured. Bill Stapler, Duncan, had charge of arrangements. More than 600 students danced to the music of the Varsity Club orchestra.

Pat Lance, Oklahoma City, directed arrangements for Now or Never. Others on the committee are Margaret Whitehurst, Ponca City, promotion; Dorotha Simpson, Talihina, publicity, and Miss Grantham, Miss Stewart, Hale and Stapler.
