NOTHING COULD BE BETTER

Oklahoma’s lack of moisture throughout the winter and early spring may not be treating the farmers right, but for those constructing the addition to the Union, nothing could be better.

Construction work has closed the Union ballroom and driven the University Book Exchange to new quarters during the past few months. However, remaining facilities are being used to fill the bill as far as the ballroom is concerned.

In the early summer months, Sooner Magazine will carry a full story concerning the new addition with complete drawings of all floorplans.
