THE PRIDE is RECRUITING ALUMNI

Calling all former members of the Pride of Oklahoma! You are needed at the University of Oklahoma to play at Homecoming.

This is the University Band’s 50th anniversary and as a special Homecoming event, Leonard Haug, band director, is forming an alumni band to play during the half-time at the O.U.-Nebraska game November 20.

Regardless of when you graduated and how rusty your tooting is, Haug wants you to march again in and with the Pride of Oklahoma.

To organize this special band and to get a line on ex-band members who would like to play in an alumni band May 1 for a 50th anniversary concert, Haug needs the following information:

Your name, the year or years you played in the band and instrument played. To make information on the band of past years as complete as possible, he would also like to know the names of those who held office in the band when you were a member ... who were the drum majors ... who were the twirlers ... who were the band queens.

Don’t be shy! Send the information to Leonard Haug, Director of University Bands, University of Oklahoma, Norman, Oklahoma.
