Calling the Roll of Sooner Classes

By ELAINE LARECY

- 1900 -

News of the death four years ago of Jacob J. Herz, '00ba, was forwarded to the Alumni Office by C. Ross Hume, '98ba, Anadarko attorney, who heard in October from the widow, Mrs. Anna Herz, of Chicago. Mr. Herz died November 25, 1938, at the age of 64 years in Berlin, Germany, where he was buried. He was a commissioned officer of the International Harvester Company which he had represented as branch manager in Neuss, a manufacturing city on the Rhine, and in the company's other offices in South America, Bohemia, Austria and the United States. As chairman in 1940 of the 1900 class reunion committee, Mr. Hume made several unsuccessful attempts to secure information about Mr. Herz. In August, 1942, after receiving word of Mr. Herz's death Mr. Hume wrote to an aunt in Kansas for information. His letter was sent on to Mrs. Herz who returned to the States from Germany in 1938 to settle the estate after her husband's death.

An appeal to the women of the nation to let their congressmen know what they think about the government and the war was made by Mike Monmouy, '26ba, representative from Oklahoma's fifth district, in an article in the November issue of Woman's Home Companion. In an article entitled "Dear Mr. Congressman," the lanky, affable young Oklahoman explained that "public opinion is now largely exerted through the mail received by Senate and House members." He urged the women of America to write unhesitatingly to their representatives in Washington when they have genuine suggestions or criticisms. Organized mail campaigns put on by pressure groups generally wind up in congressional wastebaskets, the congressman said, but to sincere, honest correspondents he added, "Your letter to your congressman counts; don't forget that."

BRAHSDIER-MOUSA: Miss Vonette Brador and Anneice Moussa, '24ba, both of Oklahoma City, were married November 2. Until her marriage, Mrs. Moussa was an employee of Vitagraph, incorporated, with which Mr. Moussa is associated as auditor. The couple are at home in Oklahoma City.
