Three other Sooners won races for renomination for seats in Congress. They are Wilbur Cartwright, '20, law; McAlister, Third District; Jed Johnson, '16, Anadarko, Sixth District; and Will Rogers, '30, Okmulgee, Oklahoma City, at-large.

Lewis Morris, '31, won renomination for the important position as county attorney of Oklahoma County. He is a former president of the Alumni Association.

Dixie Gilmer, '24, was nominated for county attorney at Tulsa.

District judge nominations in Oklahoma County were won by Ben Arnold, '20, '25, law; George Giddings, '14, county attorney at Tulsa.

Returns on legislative races over the state showed that more than thirty University of Oklahoma alumni or former students were nominated for the House of Representatives. The Sooners winning Democratic nominations for the House, according to preliminary survey include: Ben Hucy, '31, Cleveland County. Dale Brown, '36, Coal County. J. T. Daniel, '25, Jefferson County.
