On January 2 two names that have made history in Oklahoma financial circles were joined in a new name, which will carry on with greater capacity the ideals and services of the two.

The American-First National Bank and the Security National Bank were united to continue their service as the First National Bank and Trust Company with resources of more than 70 million dollars.

Congratulations!

We wish to avail ourselves of this opportunity of congratulating the officials, faculty and student body of the University of Oklahoma on the completion of the NEW UNIVERSITY LIBRARY. We feel that this $500,000 structure is a beautiful tribute and credit to the institution, the city and the state and, consequently, we are proud of that portion of its erection that was intrusted to us,—the roofing.
