First 40-Year Reunion

10 Years Ago

Notes from the July 1940 Sooner: "First 40-year reunion ever held by a graduating class of the University of Oklahoma proved a great success last month, with exactly half of all living members of the class present. Five of the ten still living were able to come to Norman on Alumni Day June 2." When the class of 1940 met for the 50th reunion June 4, 1950, three of the nine living members of the class were on hand.

"At least until next June, the Class of '40 can claim the honor of being the largest graduating class," wrote Earnest T. Hoberecht, '41ba. Hoberecht, now United Press chief correspondent and manager for Japan, was justified in making the statement at that time, but the class of '50 tops all comers with 2,510 degree receivers.

Several members of the class of '40 received scholarships for further study. Alfred Nafieh, '37ba, '40Law, was awarded a $1,200 fellowship at the University of Michigan. Nafieh was killed in action in 1942.

Charles P. Brown, '40bus, business administration senior from McAlester, was chosen for a $1,000 scholarship for study during 1940-41 at Harvard's Graduate school of Business Education. He is now an accountant in McAlester.

Charles Suggs, '40fa, of Ardmore and James Emery, '42mus.ed, of Shawnee won $750 scholarships in a regional contest for college musical comedies. They received the award for "Serenade to an Heirress." Suggs is assistant professor of drama at the University, and Emery returned to Shawnee as a teacher.
