This month

The Cover

Coach Tom Stidham keeps his eye intent on the action in a critical moment of a football game, while Backfield Coach Shorter Laster keeps a telephone glued to his car to consult with Observer Jap Haskell in the Press Box. Photo by Tacker.

Articles

Institute on World Politics, by Corbett A. M. Ewing
Sooner Fans Will Rally at Chicago
Breakfast Rally Set for Texas Game
Athlete-Humorist, by Harold Keith
The New Alumni President
Flag Raising at the Fair, by Julietta B. Kahn
O. U. in Who's Who, by Dr. Roy T. House

Regular Features

In the Mail
Association Progress
Campus Review
Faculty Page
Everybody's Aiming at the Sooners (Sports Review)
Sooners at Home and Abroad
Calling the Roll of Sooner Classes
Oklahoma Books and Writers
Riding the Sooner Range, by Ted Beard

During the three weeks that have elapsed since the Medical Alumni Directory went into the mail, only three errors have been called to the attention of the editor. One of these, however, was the unforgettable mistake of listing a man as deceased when he is still very much alive.

Dr. Silas A. Lang, '32med, of Nowata, was listed as deceased in the Class List for 1932. His name was carried correctly in the alphabetical and geographical lists. Our apologies to Dr. Lang and our thanks for his noble restraint in calling the error to our attention without the use of the strong words that might have been used.

Dr. LeRoy Long, Jr., '15ex, of Oklahoma City, should have been listed as Dr. LeRoy D. Long, and the fact that he received his M. D. degree from the Harvard Medical School was inadvertently omitted.

Similarly, the Directory failed to show that Dr. Wendell M. Long, '22 B. A., Oklahoma City, received his M. D. degree from Harvard.

This issue begins the twelfth year of Sooner Magazine. It's a temptation to talk about our plans for the new year and how we hope to improve the magazine. Probably it will be best not to make any predictions and just let the readers judge.

We admit, however, a touch of pride over the fact that there are 425 alumni personal items in the Roll Call section of this issue. That's probably an all-time record for the magazine. If it's personal items you want—and most readers say it is—turn to the Roll Call section and start reading!—R.C.

Vol. XII  September, 1939  No. 1

ROSCOE CATE, '26, Editor-Manager
ASSOCIATES: TED BEARD, HAROLD KEITH, FRANCES HUNT, S. R. HADDELL, HAROLD TACKER

THE SOONER MAGAZINE is published the fifth day of each month by the University of Oklahoma Alumni Association, Union Building, Norman, Okla. Entered as second class matter October 13, 1928, at the post office at Norman, Oklahoma, under act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Subscription price $3.00 per year, of which $2.00 is for Magazine and $1.00 for Alumni Dues. Single copies 50 cents. Opinions expressed in the Magazine are those of the editor and do not necessarily represent official action of the Alumni Executive Board. Member of the American Alumni Council. National Advertising Representatives: The Graduate Group, Inc., 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York City.

Alumni Viewpoint on the Presidency

As this is written in late August, the summer's crop of rumors and predictions of the imminent summary removal of Dr. W. B. Bizzell as president of the University seem to have faded and died.

But the published reports aroused widespread interest among alumni, and resulted in informal conferences and visits back and forth across the state among alumni leaders who take a serious interest in the welfare of O. U.

No official action of any kind was taken, as it was decided that none was called for. Nevertheless, the unofficial conferences and correspondence and visits crystallized sentiment among the better informed alumni.

It can be said that this sentiment is substantially as follows:

1. The great majority of alumni feel affection and respect for President Bizzell and believe that he has made an outstanding record in developing the University and raising its standards.

2. Alumni leaders feel that sole responsibility for retaining Dr. Bizzell as president or appointing a new president rests with the Board of Regents and that it would be improper for the organized alumni to make any suggestions or recommendations in a situation like the present, unless invited by the regents to counsel with them.

3. The alumni are very definitely opposed to any change in the presidency that would involve the University in state politics, or in factionalism within state school circles. Any such move would be fought strenuously by alumni.

4. Alumni leaders believe that when the time comes that Dr. Bizzell desires to retire from the presidency (which he has indicated he would like to do before many more years as his present responsibilities are a serious burden on his health), the entire nation should be carefully surveyed to secure an outstanding educator and administrator who as president of the University could continue to build and improve the institution entirely free of the handicap of local political or factional affiliations.

This description of alumni sentiment is unofficial, but it is based on a representative cross-section of opinions from alumni leaders in various professions, in various parts of the state, in different age groups, and in different political camps. The non-political administration of the University is an issue on which they can get together regardless of how different their opinions might be in other walks of life.

Alumni leaders have not let themselves be stampeded by unconfirmed rumors.

But the published reports, along with the wholesale changes made in state college presidencies, have made University alumni increasingly vigilant. They are working quietly, but no one should make the mistake of assuming that they would stand idly by when any threat is made against the University's hard-won reputation for staying out of politics.