HIGH noon, February 15—all is well BUT—NOT CALM! So in the rumble, the shift, and the setting on high, let’s go back over thirty days and nights of notes recorded here, there, and everywhere about your friends, associates, past and present cronies—all Sooners in the parade.

First, let’s review that long list of “new lifers”—those Sooners who have sworn allegiance to become a part of—and we hope until Doom’s Day will remain active participants in the University of Oklahoma Alumni Association. The parade of new lifers has been quite colorful in the past few days and nights, and we welcome a group of ten!

Let’s look them over, find out where they are now, what they are doing, and what they have accomplished in the past: EDWARD A. EVANS, 12, Washington, D.C., along with MRS. EVANS (GRACE MILLAR, ‘11), comes into the fold. Ed, of course, is editorial writer for all Scripps-Howard papers and has been for five years, with headquarters in the nation’s capital. Before Washington, Ed had a journalism swing over the states, including work on the Oklahoma City News (now deceased), Denver Express, Cleveland Ohio Press, San Francisco News, and Columbus Ohio Citizen. His father, DR. A. GRANT EVANS, you recall of course, was president of the University from 1908 until 1911. Drop in sometime when in the “District,” either at the National Press Club or the Washington Torc Club, and give Ed a Sooner greeting.

ELBERT VANCE WINNINGHAM, ‘28a, along with MRS. WINNINGHAM (LOTTIE BILLE SHANKS, ‘33 nurse), “jines up” as the new Oklahoma City couple. Elbert is the registered x-ray technician with the Wesley Hospital where he has been head technician for the past seven years. EDNA MULDROW, ‘18a, 27ma, that teacher of teachers at the Southwestern College of Diversified Occupations, Weatherford—and, of course, her pride and joy (and rightly so) is son ROBERT, cadet at West Point—sends a check and “count me in” note. MARGARET McKINLEY, ‘24a, the language slingin’ school marm of Cleburn, Texas,—what a “soldier” in her University day—Honorary Colonel of the University R.O.T.C. in 1923, and the only woman ever to have the distinction of wearing the engineer L.R.O.T. pin! Margaret crowned it all off as engineer queen in 1923! Indeed, she is still the queen of birthday rallies!

ROBERT S. TRIPET, ‘32a, (and we hope ‘41 law, he is still an active law student on the campus)—that hope is written with reservations! Indeed, he is an outstanding young law student, and only yesterday we heard a middle-aged citizen of Oklahoma pay tribute to him as being one of the best all-around polished young men he had known at the University in the past twenty years. Watch this boy Bob ten years from today!

CLEO C. INGLE, ‘24a, along with MRS. INGLE (HELENE S. EARKIN, ‘24) bronze in as life members via the school marms’ convention in Tulsa a few nights ago. And of course the captain (Clene is a reserve officer) is patiently awaiting his call on the part of the government to be away from Mrs. Ingle, Donald, age 6, and Carol Sue, age 2½, and his job as active director of the loan association he manages in the city of Tulsa.

GLADYS M. THOMPSON, ‘24ba, located on Little Silver Point Road, up New Jersey way, with business connections in New York City. She rushed to-the-aid of O.U. via airmail route, and thus we establish another center in the big Empire State where life members seem to sprout over night. HELEN H. HAMIL, ‘24, sec. 27mA, the charming O.U. home economics teacher, comes in in recent days, although her loyalty to the cause of the Alumni Association and the University in general could not be strengthened, as she has been tops in this field for many many years.

CHARLES H. FAWKS, JR., ‘19ba, one of the bosses on the present Alumni Executive Board, sells out lock, stock, and barrel in Snyder including his ranch, bank, and other business interests and his first official act is to become a life member of the Association. And, incidentally, we hope that when he locates in a new home he finds the village of Norman inviting to the Fawks family he heads. In fact, we think he will—we hope, we hope! And the last but not least, of the life members to come in recent days is JOHN D. HADSELL, ‘04ba, of the English Department of the University of Oklahoma, who is now one of the head men at CAPTAIN BILL COX’S, 21ba, 24ma, military school in Ponca City—and Captain Bill tells us, “a chap who’s doing a mighty mighty swell job.” So there they are—those Sooners who in recent days have been to be lifers. Indeed, it is interesting to note, as the clock ticks off its minutes, Sooners throughout the world grow interested in life memberships without the least “promotional stimulant.” We appreciate the courtesies extended!

The next paragraph (or is it an episode) well, here are the notes of it written in a typical Sooner “bull session.” In an uppermost corner of a most remote office in the city of Tulsa, the Sooner conclave is in conference. The item, or items, under discussion bears the general title, “There is an O.U. Alumnus for Every Position in America.” The subjects under discussion—well, they are no longer subjects, they are realities, and we take our hats off to “JAP” HASKELL, ‘22, the new director of athletics at the University, to SNORTER LUSTER, ‘22a, 22law, the new head football coach, and to DALE ARBUCKLE, ‘27law, ‘36ed, his assistant. Watch that Sooner trio go! Already (and this item is being dictated some eleven days after their selection on the part of the Board of Regents) they have established many many new alumni connections in the Southwest, and on every corner we hear the old Sooners Sooner spirit coming up. Indeed, this “all-alumni selection” proved itself as popular among the rank and file as it did BOB SEYMOUR’S gelding many years ago in the Sooner Range—Colonel of the University R.O.T.C. in 1923, and alumnus selection “proved itself as popular among the ranks and file as it did BOB SEYMOUR’S gelding many years ago in the Sooner Range—and as did ORV MATHEWS' stunt in San Francisco—wearing the rank and file as it did BOB SEYMOUR’S gelding many years ago in the Sooner Range—and as did ORV MATHEWS' stunt in San Francisco—wearing the rank and file as it did BOB SEYMOUR’S gelding many years ago in the Sooner Range—and as did ORV MATHEWS' stunt in San Francisco—wearing the rank and file what a “soldier” inher University day—Honor– tved other O.U.-ites, including EMIL R. KRAETZ- TLL '18, who was not only acting as Prexy's scheduling secretary but official handshaker, CAP- TAIN C. GUY BROWN, '23ba, '29ms, re- moved for far too long and drifted back to his school marm activities, and forgetting the salute he was the professor again for the day! Superinten- dent MAX BAILEY, '20ba, '21ms, of Okmul- gie, whom we were privileged to visit for quite some time and discuss many angles of interest dealing with the University of Oklahoma, was as usual rifling the field. And later in the evening, we visited with E. H. BLACK, '19ba, of Bristow, along with Superintendent FRANK HESS, '25cd, of Drumright. Many Sooners interested in the cause, and indeed, that cause seemed centered in Tulsa at this annual conclave of the O.E.A.

Of course, the official O.E.A. meeting or school marm's convention would be complete without an O.U. alumnus-get-together. This time in Tulsa it was not a luncheon—it was not a dinner but it was an O.U. reception. Thanks to the courtesy of DR. FRANK PAULY, '17ba, of the Tulsa Public School system, it was held in the Central High Building. And too, thanks to the efficient work of MAR- GARET ANNE HAMILTON, '39, the big business man, and preaching “good will” for O.U. Lowell was at the reception, meeting his many friends present at the reception, meeting his many friends. He began early in the evening registering the visit- ing guests and continued far into the night, sighing them up as they’d come. Assisting him were other outstanding registrars, including J. F. "MAJ" MA- LONE, "27ba, "27ms, DUNCAN, "27ba, and ELEANOR B. ANDERSON, "38ba, BOBBY HUFF (Dean Bob-Oh-Link), "38ba, all of the University staff from the campus, Norman. Two other members were added to the left of this registration committee on this particular evening.

The charming RUTH VERNE DAVIS, "38ba, now the "singing' teacher" of Seminole, and indeed, in her day Ruth Verne was one of the outstanding members of the Ladies’ Querette while at the University. And the last member on the registration committee from Seminole, Miss Frances Marie- WOZENCRAFT, "39ed, who is now teaching at Seminole, Oklahoma. You hired hand recommends this registration committee to any organization or corporation as a group who can, and will, register ‘em all! So, that’s that for the 1941 Tulsa O.E.A.

Just here is a little Riding of the Sooner Range at (or writing from a distance!) Seven p.m., C.S.T., makes it eight o’clock on this evening of February 15 in the nation’s capitol! Yes, Prexy Bizzell got there—thanks to the American Skyline- Sleeper, Oklahoma City-Dallas-Washington after a late four o’clock breakfast (the committee registered on the books at all precincts and wards) MISS FRANCES MARI- AN WOZENCRAFT, "39ed, who is now teaching at Seminole, Oklahoma. Your hired hand recommends this registration committee to any organization or corporation as a group who can, and will, register ‘em all! So, that’s that for the 1941 Tulsa O.E.A.

And—more Range gallopin’ (at a distance). Of course, you observed the AP wirephotograph in the metro- politan press this A.M. (February 15) of the grant- ing—the part of the Temple University of the doc- torate degree yesterday noon to Alumnus President-elect Joe Brandt, '21ba. The dignified and stately dean for Joe’s immediate left when this great honor was conferred? Sure—none other than our own alumnus JOHN HERVEY, '23ba, '25ba, the dis- tinguished dean of law, Temple University, Phila- delphia! A tribute of a Sooner—to a Sooner—and significant for all Sooners of O.U.!!
