Where's the Best Seat in the O. U. Stadium?

Some fans like to sit up high and get a birds-eye view. Some like to sit as close to the sidelines as possible. Some even like to sit toward the ends for a closeup of goal line action.

But whatever your choice is, right now is the time to be telling the Sooner athletic office about it. O.U. alumni are being given a chance to order season football tickets and take their choice of seat locations before the general sale to the public opens. Order NOW!

Correspondence Study Launder

Citizens of Oklahoma were urged to make wider use of the correspondence courses offered by the University in an editorial published by the Oklahoma City Times recently. Under the caption “There Is Room for 5,000 More,” the Times stated editorially:

"The report of the director of the extension courses offered by the University of Oklahoma shows 6,185 persons have been enrolled in the classes conducted by correspondence in the last year. It is good to see the study-at-home work on the increase. However, there is room for 5,000 more persons to participate in these courses. You may study the subjects you wish to learn or review the subjects you missed during school days. Those with trained hands and minds are getting and holding the jobs nowadays."
