The 1938 models in furniture are here! They may lack automatic gear shift and super-charging carburetors, but many of them are streamlined and the colors and designs are just as interesting as in the new automobiles.

Whether you like the more conservative models of furniture that have been tested and found good through many years, or the latest fully streamlined models just unveiled for 1938, you can find the styles you like in one of the departments of our recently enlarged store.

Start the new year with new furniture. If you plan to buy at any time during 1938, the smart thing to do is to buy now and enjoy the new furniture for the entire year.

It's quite the customary thing to pay for furniture out of income. Sooner alumni are invited to take advantage of friendly credit terms in making their purchases.

Visit the store—see "Fashion Flow Hall" and "Raleigh Court." Then figure for yourself how inexpensively and easily your furniture needs can be taken care of.

Coast Network
The FirstNational's wide-spread network of correspondent banks is like a nation-wide radio hook-up. It provides contacts in virtually every business center in the United States.

One of the principal uses of this broad system is to speed the collection of out-of-town checks, drafts and other items . . . those deposited here by our customers and also those sent here by correspondent banks throughout Oklahoma.

The FirstNational's Transit Department, engaged in the collection of out-of-town items, now operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week. We receive and dispatch mail on every train and mail plane in and out of Oklahoma City.

Twenty-four-hour transit service has been in effect here for two years and we have spent much time and money in building it to a high point.

This 365-day-a-year banking service has added materially to the financial prestige of Oklahoma City . . . for faster collection of items has been made available, not only to our own customers, but to the customers of every other bank in this section doing business with The FirstNational . . . and that includes more than half of the banks in Oklahoma as well as many in Texas.
