Enjoy a Summer of Study
on the beautiful University of Oklahoma Campus

- Large curriculum to meet your needs
- Record number of top-rank special lecturers
- Valuable short courses and institutes
- Popular O.U. professors on faculty
- Increased recreational facilities, including golf, swimming

The Summer Session of the University of Oklahoma for 1938 is planned especially to meet the needs of four different groups: 1. Graduate students; 2. Teachers continuing their professional studies; 3. Undergraduates who want to continue their work uninterrupted; and 4. The intellectually curious persons who aren't interested in degrees or professional training but who want to keep up with what's going on in the world. Each group will find part of the summer program planned especially for it.

Persons working for advanced degrees will be pleased to learn that residence requirements for the Doctor of Education degree may now be satisfied by Summer Session work. Another important revision of requirements makes optional the thesis for the Master of Education degree. Other work may be substituted for the thesis.

The summer program of short courses and institutes is a full and stimulating one. It includes an Institute of International Relations, Home Economics Conference, Short Course on Group Relationships, Community Recreation Short Course, University of Oklahoma Symphony Training Center, Conference for School Librarians, Drum Majors' Short Course, Summer Session Speech Conference, Conference on Creative! Writing, Conference on Safety Education, and a Visual Education Short Course. The International Relations Institute will bring speakers from England, Mexico and Japan in addition to nationally known American lecturers. Burton Rascoe, noted writer and critic, will be a speaker in the creative writing conference.

And this year, O.U. provides plenty of fine recreational facilities—a golf course with grass greens, swimming pools for both men and women, tennis courts, and other attractions.

Enjoy your summer, while making it a profitable one also!
