Typical of the humor of these two editors was the panning of fraternity life. Here are a few of their pointed barbs:

"Blessed be the rich, for they shall be pledged."

"Kappa Alpha—last stronghold of Southern Gentlemen and Cleveland County bootleggers."

"Gamma Phi Beta—The house is kept dark so the dates can't see what they are getting."

"Sigma Alpha Epsilon—In early history they initiated women but after two of them membership became army officers, they gained self-confidence and decided they could be "He-men."

"Alpha Gamma Delta—Located on Chataqua half way between the Administration building and Noble. Formerly kept in trim by wrestling with the Sigma Mu Sigma."

"Mortar Board—A very exclusive society formed for a three-fold purpose: first to take $14.00 each away from eight or ten girls each year; second, to get the girls in on the Senior Day pledging ceremonies; and third, to give the members a chance to parade around in caps and gowns without waiting for graduation time."
