The engagement is announced of Miss Ruth Schwartz, ex '28, of Purcell to Mr Harry L. Levy of Wewoka.

MARRIAGES

COCHRAN-REED: Miss Nevell Cochran and Dr Emil F. Reed, '29 med., June 10 in Oklahoma City. Home, Oklahoma City.

DAVIS-NYE: Miss Ola Mae Davis and Luther A. Nye, ex '28, June 19 at Chickasha. Home, Chickasha.

CROWNING-BROWN: Miss Ethel Louise Crowning and Virgil Brown, Jr., '27 sc., at New Orleans, La., June 20.

BEDNAR-TAUSON: Miss Julia Bednar and Peter Tauson, June 8, at Alamogordo, New Mexico.

FINTON-TINNEY: Miss Sarah Finton and Calvin Tinney, '34, July 14 in Ponca City. Home, Norman.

GEORGE-OURS: Miss Frances George and Ray Ours, ex '29, July 11 in Tulsa. Home, Oklahoma City.

STORM-RICE: Miss Mary Louise Storm, '32 and Howard Parker Rice, August 16 in Roff. Home, Roff.

LYON-MANNEN: Miss Patricia Bernice Lyon, '29 and Lynden Mannen, '27 arts-se., instructor in government in the university and managing editor of the Oklahoma Municipal Review, Alpha Gamma Delta-Acacia, September 1 at Geary, Missouri.

PETERSON-BEELE: Miss Dorothy Ann Petersen and Paul A. Beele, June 8 in Tulsa. Home, Tulsa.

CHARRON-PATTERSON: Miss Jewel Charron, ex '29 and Ray Patterson, May 26 at Alden. Home, Carnegie.

HAREDT-MICMILLAN: Miss Clarice Haredt, '31 eng., and Norma McMILLAN, '30, of Norman, and James Mough Mc Millan, '30, of Tehuacana, Texas, at Norman September 2, Delta Delta Delta. Mrs McMILLAN is the daughter of Dr Roy Sardis Haredt, '24, and Mrs Florence Williams Haredt, '02 arts-sc., of Norman.

BIRTHS

Walter S. Harlow II, born June 3 at Wichita, Kansas, to Perry R. Hanson, '26 and Mrs Louise R. Hanson (Kansas).

LEROY Crone, Jr., born June 29 at Chickasha to Roy LeRoy Crone, ex '28, and Mrs Le- Crone.

DEATHS

Roy C. Smith

Roy C. Smith, ex '07, born June 12, 1883, died July 2, 1931 after an illness of twelve weeks. He was at home in Anadarko two weeks before he died. Mr Smith matriculated in the university March 11, 1901. He finished the university preparatory school and a part of the engineering course before he entered the banking business. He married Miss Oliva Edwards of Noble, who, with three children, survived him. Roy was a son of W. C. Smith, express agent at Norman, brother of George and Karl C. and Harold Smith. He will be remembered in many old class fights, in Y. M. C. A. circles and in the Norman Methodist Episcopal church, having been superintendent of the M. E. Sunday school for years. R. C. climbed rapidly in business. He was energetic. awarded a doctor of philosophy degree by the University of Dublin, Ireland. Dr Berrigan is associate professor of English at the Oklahoma A. and M. College.

1915

William L. Eagleton, '14 arts-sc., '19 law, of Tulsa, was elected a member of the board of education of Tulsa, May 19. D. Hogan Markham, '14 arts-sc., is head of the chemistry department of the Oklahoma College for Women at Chickasha.

1916

Clauide E. Reeds, '14 arts-sc., formerly assistant head coach at the university and last athletic director at West Texas Teachers college at Canyon, Texas, was named director of athletics of Central State Teachers college at Marlow. He was cut June 19, succeeding Charles W. Wamland.

1917

Donald E. Walker, '15 geol., is head of the production department of the Wirt Franklin Petroleum corporation. His headquarters are in Ardmore.

1918

Corinne Breeding, '18 arts-sc., is on the editorial staff of Postage and the Mailbag, a trade publication for direct mail service.

1919

Phillip J. Kramer, '19 arts-sc., '21 law, of Tulsa, has been named receiver of the Chief- tain Royalty Corp. with full authority to proceed to purchase the assets of the company he is president, at the annual meeting of stockholders in Tulsa.

1920

John Joseph Mathews, '20 sc., of Pawhuska, has been named a member of the library board of Pawhuska.

1921

Omar R. Lyons, '20 sc., '23 arts-sc., has been promoted from major to lieutenant colonel in the reserve corps of the U. S. Army. McNeese is associated with the Phillips Petroleum corporation. His headquarters are in Amar- illo, Tex.

1922

Leon S. Hirsh, '22 law, of Oklahoma City, after presenting a plan for securing reduced gas rates for Oklahoma which met the approval of Governor Murray, represented the state in the suit against the Lone Star Gas Corporation at Muskogee.

1923

Chalmers L. Cooper, '23 eng., M. S. '26, formerly chief geologist for the Oklahoma Geological Survey, has accepted the post of editor of publications for the Kentucky Geological Survey at Frankfort, Kentucky. Mr Cooper was at his Norman post for five years until Governor Murray killed the survey.
June 15 on the music federation special train for San Francisco where she attended the biennium vacation. Mrs Catron left Ponca City October 5.

Bill Nolan, ex ‘24, finds his adventure in business. Since leaving the university he has worked in banks in Chicago and Boston, holding very responsible positions in each place. A year ago the National Bank of Boston sent him to Cuba to be head of the auditing department of all its branch banks there. His merit in this position soon attracted attention and the Ford Motor Company has recently procured him as the head of their credit department in Havana.

Todd Downing, ‘24 arts-sc., ‘28 M.A., is instructor in modern languages in the university.

Anna Mae Dearden, ‘24 arts-sc., has returned to her post as assistant registrar of the university after a year spent in graduate work at Columbia university. Miss Dearden was awarded her M.A. degree by Columbia in June.

Scott P. Squyres, ‘24 law, senior vice commander of the Oklahoma City Veterans of Foreign Wars post, was unopposed for election as commander in the election to be held October 5.

Harold Cooksey, ‘24 bus., district representative of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Norman, is one of three men in Oklahoma who has passed examinations to become a chartered life underwriter as specified by the American College of Life Underwriters. He has one of the highest ratings in his company.

Lee Bennett Thompson, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Eleanor Drennan, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Eleanor Drennan, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Eleanor Drennan, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Henry Brazil, ex ‘27, of Norman, won a trip from Norman to St. Louis to attend the southwest district convention of the New York Life Insurance Co. in May. He was a leader in a round-up campaign held by the company by the volume of business he sold.

Dr Richard Auriaemma, ‘26 arts., ‘28 M.D., announces opening of office for the practice of medicine and surgery at 127 West Anahim street, Santa Clara, California.

The Sooner Magazine

If these two young Sooners follow in the footsteps of their father, they will be economists. They are Leonard M. Logan, III, age eight years and James Duke Logan, age eight months, the sons of Dr. Leonard M. Logan, ’14 arts-sc., and Mrs Logan of Norman.

The Sooner Magazine

If these two young Sooners follow in the footsteps of their father, they will be economists. They are Leonard M. Logan, III, age eight years and James Duke Logan, age eight months, the sons of Dr. Leonard M. Logan, ’14 arts-sc., and Mrs Logan of Norman.

1924

Bill Nolan, ex ‘24, finds his adventure in business. Since leaving the university he has worked in banks in Chicago and Boston, holding very responsible positions in each place. A year ago the National Bank of Boston sent him to Cuba to be head of the auditing department of all its branch banks there. His merit in this position soon attracted attention and the Ford Motor Company has recently procured him as the head of their credit department in Havana.

Todd Downing, ‘24 arts-sc., ‘28 M.A., is instructor in modern languages in the university.

Anna Mae Dearden, ‘24 arts-sc., has returned to her post as assistant registrar of the university after a year spent in graduate work at Columbia university. Miss Dearden was awarded her M.A. degree by Columbia in June.

Scott P. Squyres, ‘24 law, senior vice commander of the Oklahoma City Veterans of Foreign Wars post, was unopposed for election as commander in the election to be held October 5.

Harold Cooksey, ‘24 bus., district representative of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Norman, is one of three men in Oklahoma who has passed examinations to become a chartered life underwriter as specified by the American College of Life Underwriters. He has one of the highest ratings in his company.

Lee Bennett Thompson, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Eleanor Drennan, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Eleanor Drennan, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Lee Bennett Thompson, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Eleanor Drennan, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Eleanor Drennan, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Eleanor Drennan, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Eleanor Drennan, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

1925

Lee Bennett Thompson, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Eleanor Drennan, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Eleanor Drennan, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Eleanor Drennan, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Lee Bennett Thompson, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

Eleanor Drennan, ‘25 arts-sc., ‘27 law, was recently elected first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Thompson is president of the Oklahoma City alumni club.

1926

Mrs Frances S. Catron, ‘26 mus., of Ponca City, has just returned from an extensive summer vacation. Mrs Catron left Ponca City June 15 on the music federation special train for San Francisco where she attended the biennium national Federation of Music clubs June 20 to 27. Mrs Catron was one of the speakers on public school music and was made national chairman of public school music. After the San Francisco meeting, Mrs Catron, in company with friends went through Yosemite National park on the way to Los Angeles where a three day post-convention was held. She sailed July 4 for Hawaii and after a tour of the Islands returned to Ponca City where she is director of music in the public schools.

Dr P. Richard Auriaemma, ‘26 arts., ‘28 M.D., announces opening of office for the practice of medicine and surgery at 127 West Anahim street, Santa Clara, California.

Preston C. Clarke, ‘26 law of Tulsa, has been made treasurer of the Federal Saving and Loan association of Shawnee.

1927

Dr Henry G. Bennett, M.A. ‘27, president of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college, visited England last summer. As governor-elect of the twelfth district of the Rotary International he was to attend the international convention at Vienna, Austria.

Lloyd B. Drake, M.S. ‘27, has been elected president of the Northeastern Oklahoma Junior college at Miami. Mr. Drake founded the School of Mines, parent of the junior colleges, and was a dean in the college prior to his selection as president.

Wayman J. Thompson, ‘27 sc., ’29 med., has opened offices for the general practice of medicine and surgery at room 120 Ogle building, 1200 North Walker, Oklahoma City. He was president of the freshman class the fall of ’22; member-at-large on student council and one of the original Stadium Union group.

W. W. Barkley, ’27 pharm., assistant professor of pharmacognosy in the University of Mississippi, attended the current summer session of the University of Oklahoma, taking graduate work.
attended the university last year and received a degree in library science will be librarian in the Stand Watie elementary school at Oklahoma City.

1930
Al Mayhew, '30 arts-sc., has recently been appointed athletic coach at Claremore high school. Mayhew's teams at Jet had splendid records during his past year as coach at that high school. Ross Taylor, '30 lib. sc., is secretary to the head of the educational department of the Grollier Society at Kansas City. He plans to continue with work in buying, collecting and selling rare books.

Paul Kennedy, '30 journ., is writing radio continuity for station WRY at Oklahoma City.

1931
A scholarship for one year's study at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas has been awarded to Clarence M. Ball, '31 arts-sc., by the Oklahoma City district of the Oklahoma conference. Mr. Ball has served the Nokoma circuit for two years as a member of the Oklahoma conference of the Methodist church.

Albert Walker, '31 bus., is teaching typing-writing and bookkeeping in Seminole high school. He is also sponsor of the senior class.

Ross G. Humen, '31 law, son of one of the early leaders in the university (Ross Humen, '98 of Anadarko), made the highest score in the state bar examination held last June. Mr. Humen had 1,578 points out of a possible 1,800 points.

Arlo Ralph Davis, '31, varsity all-round athlete, has been appointed athletic coach for Frederick high school, it has been announced. He succeeds Paul Allen, who has been made principal of the school.

Mrs. Christine James Tant, '31 mus., has announced the opening of a piano studio at 412 Park Drive, Norman. Mrs. Tant, who was a student of C. F. Giard, professor of piano at the university, has conducted studios at Bartlesville and Altus. She has installed a new grand piano for instructional purposes.

Robert Weidman, '31 arts-sc., arrived in Paris early in September en route for Zurich university where he holds a fellowship for the ensuing year.

Ed Mills, '31 journ., is covering the courthouse run for The Oklahoma News at Oklahoma City.

Ross Maxwell, M. S. '31, of Drumright, is a fellow this year at Northwestern University.

Miss Mildred Armour, M. S. '31, is instructor in geology at Oklahoma City university.

Benton Ferguson, '31 arts-sc., is on the advertising staff of the Birmingham Post.

1933
Hardie Lewis, '33 eng., of Duncan, Sooner wrestler, was injured June 6 near Chickasha in an automobile accident while en route home from the university.

CHANGING ATTITUDES TOWARD LEARNING
(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 16)

above giving a dose with its encouragement of idleness and of return to primitive conditions.

A five-day week and a shorter working day have been suggested as one of the means of solving the employment problem. Unless there is a wider range of human wants, there seems to be no other way out of our existing difficulties. This redivision of vocational opportunity will, of course, enlarge the avocational, cultural, and recreational opportunities for every one; but for society to enlarge recreational opportunities without, at the same time, providing for the wisest possible utilization of the free time and energies of the people would merely be shifting the problem from one sphere of activity to another. It seems, therefore, that it is highly important for all of us to see this problem in all its relations. In other words, it is equally as important to provide adequate cultural and recreational opportunities as it is to solve the problems of unemployment by reducing the labor load.

One of our great daily papers said editorially last summer that "There is one debt for which the momentum cannot with safety be declared. That is the eternal debt of maturity to childhood and youth—education."

After health and physical safety it is the first obligation of the state. Not only should the schools now be kept going at their best, but children and youth who are normally drawn into industry at a younger age should be encouraged to continue their schooling rather than seek employment in competition with older persons, who cannot so readily adapt themselves to changed conditions. This may often mean parental sacrifice, but it is the best investment that can be made when it is at all possible.

Little has been said about the aid that our schools and colleges can render in helping to solve the unemployment problem. There is no question that the schools can assist in this enterprise. Students should not only be encouraged at this time to enter college for their own benefit, but as a means of withdrawing hundreds of them from competition with mature men who have families to support.

I am hoping that you have entered, or re-entered, college today with a full realization of the conditions of life about you. It is possible for each of us to feel a deep sense of our pressing obligations without sacrificing happiness or contentment. The time has come for us to think soberly and seriously about life and its possibilities. We, however, are a time to practice plain living and high thinking, it is now. The student who lives extravagantly this year is unworthy of college opportunities. Student groups of every kind should encourage and practice economy. The closest possible scrutiny will be exercised on the part of university authorities in an effort to impress students with the importance of living simply and sanely.

But there is a much higher obligation resting upon each of you than the mere practice of economy. I refer to the obligation of making the best possible use of your opportunities. I admit this sounds trite, but it is a truism that requires emphasis today. This university is no place for a loafer. Indifference to the acquisition of knowledge and its values is a deadly sin here. Every one of you will be expected to report to classes promptly, to attend regularly, to sustain an attentive attitude while in classes, and to respond cheerfully to the demands made upon you by your instructors.

That is not all. You will be expected to assume the right attitude toward knowledge. All that any professor can do is to expose you to knowledge. It is your duty to assimilate it. The higher ethics of college life involves responsive attitudes toward truth. No man can live at the higher intellectual levels unless he has an adequate perspective of all knowledge. An adequate understanding of some sphere of knowledge is essential to rational living.

From time to time during your college course you should attempt to make an evaluation of the knowledge you have acquired. I read of a student recently who attempted to do this. He set down a list of things he had learned. Some of them were:

How to sleep in a chair while sitting erect.

How to turn off an alarm clock without waking up.

How to read a book by scanning the first sentence of every paragraph.

That the ancient Greeks were smart people.

That psychology is more interesting in novels than text books.

That Columbus didn't discover America.

That it is bad to always split your infinitives.

We are inclined to laugh at this student's intellectual accomplishments. But, certainly, he had learned something. It is quite an art to sleep while sitting erect in a chair. He certainly did not list all the things he had learned. It is quite apparent that this student had acquired the spirit of fortitude and patience while sitting in class suffering at times from insomnia. I remind you, also, that this youth had learned that an infinitive could be split. There are still some people who are entirely ignorant of this fact.

A university campus is a place where every man and woman should seek the maximum opportunity to enrich his or her life by the greatest possible number of valuable experiences. H. G. Wells in his First and Last Things declares that it is an essential duty of every man to utilize his experiences to this end. "The general duties of a man," says he, "his existende being secured, is to educate, and chiefly to educate and develop him-