OCTOBER, 1949

To young men of the mid-19th century desirous of a fruitful career, the great editor, Horace Greeley, gave the now-famous advice: "Go West!" Where do you go from here? Maybe you're stuck in an uncongenial job. Maybe you seea low ceiling on your prospects for the future. Or maybe you have no real idea as to just where your best business talents lie.

To young men in doubt as to their professional qualifications, we are happy to offer aptitude-preference and vocational-interest tests. There is no charge of any kind for this helpful service. Our reward comes in uncovering men of character and ability to whom we can offer a pleasant and profitable career in providing family security. Those who reveal no special talent for underwriting are guided into fields offering greater scope for their particular gifts.

These tests are available to you through our 55 general agents across the country. If you would care to take them, write to us for the name of our general agent nearest you. Remember, too, whatever your life insurance needs, you can look with confidence to National Life—famed for a century for thrift, stability, and friendly service.

Arias Came From Blimp

10 Years Ago

The year 1939 saw people stretching pretty far to establish "firsts." But probably one of the most unusual precedents was set by Joseph Bentollini, '20, popular opera singer. For the first time in radio history Bentollini sang arias from a blimp over Washington, D. C.

Gracing one of the pages of the June 1939 Sooner Magazine was the picture of Norris Goff, '24. The name probably doesn't mean much until you hear him by his radio name, "Abner." He's been a steady performer on the Lunt and Abner show for some 18 years.

Eugene Ledbetter, '48law, president of the Board of Regents in 1939, made a hit at the alumni luncheon when he introduced Mrs. Ledbetter, the former Helen Beattie, '14 as "the reason why I used to violate the no-date rule.

A 1939 grad, George Norris, Jr., '39eng, exercised some ingenuity in sending out his graduation announcements. He used a block print showing a tortoise grasping a college diploma, with the inscription below: "Folks, we made it." He has now made it to Washington, D. C., where he is residing.

An epidemic of nose holding gripped the campus one day in 1939. An unwelcome visitor in the form of a skunk nonchalantly paraded into the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity house and made other calls at the library and other scenic spots. Buildings were vacated as the sociable little animal advanced. Remembrances of his call lingered on for days.
