Not to Initiate

The nationally known women's fraternity Chi Omega held formal initiatory rites for one of its pledges this semester. Said pledge had a grade average not equal to Phi Beta Kappa standing, but, as grades go, about 34.

Scarcely had Miss Frances Ellinger of Noble, Oklahoma, learned what Chi Omega means until the dread inquisitorial body, the Pan-Hellenic council, did a Volstead. The council discovered that Miss Ellinger did not have the required 3.5 grade average for initiation. And, after some hearty discussion, the council deprived Chi Omega of the right to initiate until May 1, 1930.

Norman's New Mayor

Jack Foster (phone 600), senior law student, aetate 27, is the new mayor of this cultured city. Foster on March 19 defeated Mayor Guy Spottwood by a majority of 724 votes. Foster received 1,329 votes out of 2,053 cast for mayor.

The campaign was a vigorous one, there being considerable mention made of Mayor Spottwood's unfriendly attitude towards the university. However, Mr. Spottwood was consistent that he was friendly to the university and in his campaign cited numerous instances in which he had accorded full recognition to the school.

Neil Johnson, a director in the University of Oklahoma Association, was elected to the board of education, while King Price, a graduate of the university, was named treasurer.

One of the major questions before Foster is to reduce the number of fire alarms. Someone called Norman the "false alarm city" and he didn't miss it far. Norman makes no effort to compel people to burn their paper and refuse in containers, and as a result it is a rare day that the fire department does not make several runs. Insurance men are said to be beginning to look questioningly on the fire situation in Norman.

Phi Beta Kappa Elects

Alpha of Oklahoma of Phi Beta Kappa elected March 25 five alumni of the class of 1919, one honorary member, six juniors and twenty-four seniors.

The alumni selected were: Ernest E. Brown, president of Southwestern State Teachers college at Weatherford, Oklahoma; Della Irene Brunstetter, assistant professor of modern languages of the University of Oklahoma; Fayette Copeland, associate professor of journalism at the University of Oklahoma and director of publicity; Dr. Mell Achilles Nash, president of the Oklahoma College for Women at Chickasha, Oklahoma; and Morris L. Wardell, assistant professor of history at the University of Oklahoma and acting dean of men.

Dr. Joseph Whitefield Scroggs, editor of University of Oklahoma extension publications was elected to honorary membership. A pioneer educator in this state, Doctor Scroggs is one of Oklahoma's most learned men. In extension work, he originated the community institutes and edited the numerous debate bulletins which have an international circulation.

Seniors elected to membership are: Lucile Margaret Anderson, Drumright; Joe Porter Ballard, Norman; William Norval Ballard, Oklahoma City; Spencer W. Barefoot, Chickasha; Robert Edward Brittain, Oklahoma City; Maude LaPointe Eisenberg, Oklahoma City; Marie Shultz Garton, Norman; Frank Cook Gentry, Oklahoma City; Dorothy Gittinger, Norman; Esther Mae Grimes, Norman; Donald Lloyd Hansen, Marble City; Ross Gossard Hume, Anadarko; Frances Katherine Hunt, Tulsa; Savoie Lottinville, Tulsa; Willie Murray Witt, Oklahoma City; James Cleo Mayfield, Marietta; Charlene E. Opperman, Baxter Springs, Kansas; Wilma Joyce Saunders, Pawnee; Mox Rodman, NOT THE CAMPUS OF THE UNIVERSITY AFLOAT!

Alabama floods occupied the front pages of the newspapers early in April, but torrential rains during the Easter holidays made a regular lake beside the genetics building, stretching across the old Boyd field where football games were played before the present stadium was built. The upper view shows the lake looking towards the genetics and engineering buildings (the refinery is seen at the extreme right). The lower view is looking through the old gateway that once led into Boyd field. Through the left arch may be seen the Alpha Tau Omega house. At the right is the fieldhouse. The photographs were taken April 1 by Truby studio.

Oklahoma City; Margaret Josephine Skelton, Norman; Evelyn Snow Smith, Ponca City; Ethel Bolend Thompson, Oklahoma City; Margaret Edith Thompson, Tulsa; Bess B. Westmoreland, Muldrow.

Six junior undergraduates elected were: Samuel Nathan Alexander, Oklahoma City; Chloris V. Cunningham, Oklahoma City; Edwin Patterson, Oklahoma City; Mildred Nicholson, Shattuck; Geneva Joyce Jones, Norman; Lucy Tandy, Norman.

Miss Gittinger is a daughter of Dean Roy Gittinger, '02; Ros Hume is the son of Ross Hume, '98 arts.

The Mighty Thetas

Members of Kappa Alpha Theta demonstrated last semester that beauty and brains is not an anomaly, for they easily led the Pan-Hellenic in scholarship. The hard-hitting Sigma Alpha Mus ranked at the top in the Interfraternity grades, followed by Phi Gamma Delta.

The fraternity averages follow:

WOMEN

1. Kappa Alpha Theta 4.034
2. Phi Mu 3.935
3. Kappa Kappa Gamma 3.833
4. Delta Delta Delta 3.719
5. Delta Gamma 3.651
6. Phi Beta Phi 3.616
7. Alpha Gamma Delta 3.495
8. Chi Omega 3.387

Phi Mu fraternity, with an average of 4.082, led the women's fraternities the second semester of 1928. This is higher than the average of Kappa Alpha Theta for last semester by .048. Thetas ranked second in the previous report, followed by the Chi Omegas and the Tri Delts.

Pi Kappa Alpha continued occupying the cellar position in grades among the men's fraternities. Beta Theta Pi sank from first position in the previous report (with an average of 3.191) to fourteenth position, while the Phi Gams climbed from fifth place to second, and Sigma Alpha Mu pulled itself from sixteenth place to first. Alpha Tau Omega, ranking fourth this time, came up from eighteenth place. Sigma Mu's average is .053 lower than the Beta's in the previous report.
