1911
"Secretary Wilbur is said to be seeking a man as commissioner of Indian affairs who will be so able he will work himself out of a job. The new secretary of the interior is quoted as saying that 'it is time for the Indian to be weaned.' He wants the Indians made independent, self-sufficient citizens, instead of wards of the nation. Many Indians, of course, have attained that status, and some of these have demonstrated their ability to cope with the whites in business affairs. Dr. Edward E. Dale ('11 arts-sc.), professor of history at the University of Oklahoma, probably knows more about Indians than Secretary Wilbur will ever learn. Incidentally, Doctor Dale has been mentioned in Washington political circles for the position of commissioner of Indian affairs. However, he favors an indefinite continuance of federal control of Indian affairs. Without that protection, he maintains, the Indians will be mutilated of many of their farms by unscrupulous whites. Secretary Wilbur will find much support for his policy, but it may not come from friends of the Indians who know them well." — Oklahoma City Times editorial, April 1, 1929.
