Calling the Roll of Sooner Classes

Editor's note: Reunion problems, or more especially, paper shortages, have caused an accumulation of overt material during the course of the past few months. Many of the weddings and other events have taken place several months ago, but due to the shortages, Sooner Magazine has been unable to print all the announcements at the earliest possible time.

For its August issue, Sooner Magazine is running several pages of news of alumni in the Roll Call section in order to acquire its readers with news of hundreds of their friends.

Dear Ted:

This must be Old Nostalgia Week—I was happy to get your note just now. My vegetation is so ancient now (I was 2 years in the army—but out in 1943—So you see—Why ancient now (I was 2 years in the army—but out in 1943). I'm finishing the final draft of Tragic Grandad, a music-play, based on the Erskine Caldwell novel —Music by Aaron Copeland, Pulitzer prize composer—and good, besides dances by Agnes de Mille, etc.—it's for November or December.

How are you?

My best,

Lynn Riggs, 23,
Santa Monica, Calif.

-1930-

Dear Ted:

You know the old one about the dripping of water—enough for $4.90 being a year's dues for Ruth and myself and a year's subscription to the Sooner Magazine.

I came down here one year ago as partner-manager of this 73 year old firm. I had called on them for years and when Mr. Rine became ill last year I was taken into the firm. Mr. Rine has since passed away and I have succeeded to his interest in the firm. So this is a very great person but not active in the business. We like the town and the people here and everyone has been wonderful to us.

Ruth and our boys, Dean (10) and Bill (5), are becoming real Texans. Mother is still at Forgan, Dad died in 1942, Dean is in Shreveport and John in Lubbock.

Ruth has found her Delta Gamma alumnae group but I have seen no PiKAs. If you happen this way be sure and come to see us.
