not by the battle of Salamis but by the songs of Sappho, the sculpture of Phidias, and the Parthenon of Icucinus. England may grow old but she will never die while the plays of Shakespeare live. France may decline but her spirit will go on as long as the work of her thousands of artists exists. Italy will not die as long as the paintings of Michelangelo or the Comedy of Dante remain.

Such is the character of art. Delight is the soul of art, and its function is to express and interpret the beauty of life, and man's search for the divine.

DEATHS

MRS FRANK LEE

Miss Virginia Lee Wyckoff, fine arts freshman, daughter of Mrs Kate Wyckoff, Norman, died April 25 in Oklahoma City. Burial was in Craterville, Iowa.

Miss Miriam Kerndel and Miss Hortense Kerndel

Miss Miriam S. Kerndel, B. S. in Education '26, Classes high school teacher, was found shot to death in her apartment, Oklahoma City, May 12. With her was her sister, Miss Hortense Kerndel, B. S. in Education '29, who was shot through the head. Miss Hortense Kerndel graduated with B. A. '28, and was a teacher in an Oklahoma City grade school. Both were members of Pi Beta Phi sorority. A vestige of "death from self-inflicted gunshot wounds" was made by Paul Powers, coroner, who investigated the case. Carl Stratton, police fingerprint expert said he found fingerprints of Miss Miriam on a revolver purchased by Miss Hortense.

Burial was made May 14 in Tulsa.

A tribute to Miriam and Hortense Kerndel was sent to all city teachers by C. K. Reiff, superintendent. "In their passing, we lose teachers whose lives personified the highest ideals of the teaching profession and whose work has been an inspiration.

"As is the case with every great teacher, the Kerndel sisters were capable of desire or hope of fame or fortune. The city of Oklahoma City and teachers of the public schools especially will remember them and imploring them for their ennobling influence on the teaching profession," Mr. Reiff said.

Raymond L. Daulton

Raymond L. Daulton, '32 pet. eng., died May 10 following an operation in a hospital in Ponca City. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Daulton of Tulsa.

Joan Sandifer

Joan Sandifer, three-year-old daughter of Professor and Mrs. C. R. Sandifer, Norman, died Thursday, May 12, after an illness of three weeks. Mr. Sandifer is professor of civil engineering.

Morris Wells

Morris Wells, '31 arts-sc., was killed in an automobile accident when the automobile he was driving hit a culvert and plunged over an eight foot embankment between Ada and Stratford. Wilson Bell, '31 arts-sc., who was with Morris Wells, was also injured. The boys were on their way to their homes in Purcell. They were employed in the McClain county national bank at Purcell. Both were members of Beta Theta Pi.

John T. Heffley, '01, has made a reputation as an educator during the years he has been superintendent of public schools at Ponca City and Stillwater. Now he has created a paradox. He is exchanging jobs with Mr. E. D. Price, superintendent of schools at Enid. Mr. Price is an instructor during the summer term of education.

1912

Senator Hooey P. Long ex '12, of Louisiana, is stirring up a dramatic hornet's nest in Washington by recently resigning from all committees to which he had been assigned by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, after the Arkansan had opposed legislation to limit incomes to $1,000,- 000 a year, and instead of the $5,000,000 in a lifetime. Referring to Mr. Long's resignation from his committee assignments Robinson quipped: "His indifference to any serious dramatic fashion, has tendered his resignation from the committees to which he was appointed at my suggestion. That was a comic opera scene that affords the opportunity for the realization of talents and powers of the senator from Louisiana.

Harry Diamond, '12 law, Holdenville, is a member of the board of regents of the Eastern Oklahoma College at Weatherford.

The dinner-time headache is frequently caused by certain kinds of foods, Dr. Ray M. Bayley, 12 arts-sc., M. D., '18, of Oklahoma City, told the American Medical association at its annual meeting in New Orleans May 14, according to the Associated Press. Doctor Bayley and Dr. Herbert J. Rinkel described sixty-five headaches caused by food. Recently discovered methods of testing foods revealed the source of these headaches. "Sometimes bad heads came out of the sensible; sometimes there was a single chemical carbohydrate that build up the pain stage by several days diet on the unsuspected cause," reports the Associated Press. Food which has not varied its method of attack from time to time. The physicians did not name any of the guilty foods, stating that in every case role of thumb trials were necessary for identification. But frequently the discovery and change of diet alone were sufficient for relief. Anger, emotional stress and fatigue, disturbances of special senses, often conspire to set off the gastronomic fireworks. Profound sleep was one of the forerunners of a few of these headaches. Other precursors were "lumps in the throat," depression, abnormal hunger, canker and bad breath... Men and women were "equally guilty". The women had longer headaches and less frequent ones while the men had them briefly and often.

Mort Woods, ex '13, has been elected president of the Ardmore Rotary club.

John Rogers, '14 law, former regent and president of the board of directors of the Tulsa Y. M. C. A., has been named general chairman of the membership and finance campaign to be conducted by the Tulsa "Y" this year.

Luther White, '14 arts-sc., former president of the University of Oklahoma Association and now president of the Tulsa board of education, was a student leader even in his high school days at Altus, a friend revealed in Tulsa recently. Mr. White was a member of the Senate, the Altus debating society and a contributor to the "The Senate," the school's magazine. The friend revealed that Mr. White and two other debaters won a debate, the affirmative side of the question, "The question of education is not added to man's happiness." That, in 1907, might well prove prophetic for 1932.

Leonard Logan, '14, assistant professor of economics, advocates the consolidation of counties in the effort to reduce government expense.

"We are living in an automobile age today. Distances can be covered by cars in a fraction of the time it formerly took. Duplication of offices in a comparatively small area would be done away with and thereby form an important step in reducing government expenditures," Mr. Logan said recently before the Murray good government club. Commenting upon cutting government salaries, he warned the club that too drastic a cut would impair the efficiency of public officials. He pointed out that consolidation of counties would reduce the number of legislators in the state legislature.

A Sooner ticket for governor and lieutenant governor for the next primary election is suggested by an Oklahoma City resident in a letter to The Daily Oklahoman May 15. He writes: "I have in mind two fine young men who are both native born, that are worthy and qualified for high places of honor. They are both statesmen of the highest type. Their names are Jos. Lee, '17 arts-sc., head of the department of public speaking in the university, for governor, and Frank L. Watson, '23 arts-sc., '25 law, county attorney of Pittsburg county, for lieutenant governor.

1920

Bruce D. Greenshields, '20 B. S., '27 eng., is planning to spend the summer in a graduate study at the University of Michigan, taking work leading toward a Ph. D. degree in civil engineering. This is made possible by a sabbatical leave, and by receiving the Detroit Edison fellowship in highway engineering. During the last year Mr. Greenshields had the following activities: "Co-Editor for September, 1931: "Traffic Surveys to Solve Highway Problems," of The Road Engineer, January, 1932: "The Use of Automatic Traffic Signals," in the Highway Magazine for January, 1932. Address, care Denison university, Granville, Ohio.

1921

Bryce W. Greenshields, '21 eng., has been on construction work in Midland, Michigan for a short time. He is located at Lucasen Apartments, Tulsa.

1922

Denzel Carr ex '22, has received a lecturehip in the Sinologisch institute, Leyden, Holland. While in the university, Mr Carr was considered a brilliant linguist and philologist, according to Dr Roy T. House, head of the department of modern languages. For the past three years Carr has been a lecturing linguist at the University of Cracow, Poland.

1923

David Shackelford, '23 arts-sc., has found two years of handling publicity and public relations engrossing. He had been working with T. T. Johnson and Russell Higin, an association with this as its sole business. It is known as the State News Bureau and is located at 218 Commerce Exchange building in Oklahoma City. Shackelford, Johnson and Higin are former newspaper men.

Robert M. Rasinger, '23 arts-sc., is a "vote-getter" in Sand Springs. He has been re-elected to succeed himself as commissioner of finance and accounts of Sand Springs. The total number of votes cast was 1,978, the largest ever cast in a city election and Risinger received 596, the largest number any candidate ever received, according to the Sand Springs Leader, which says, "Risinger probably gained a large number of votes when W. A. Partridge (279 jurors) withdrew from the race at the last minute. Partridge was an independent..."

Lloyd H. McInturff, '25 law, of Guthrie, has recently been elected president of the State League of Young Republicans.

Lee B. Thompson, '25 arts-sc., '27 law, has moved the law office from the Petroleum building to 604 Commerce Exchange building, Oklahoma City.

Emmett A. Darby, '28 bus., Chattanooga, Tennessee, visited in Norman in May. He is a member of the W. A. Darby & Son, distributors, firm. While in school, he was circu-
 Billy Morgan, most interested at present in puppies, pop corn, and play but his future loyalty has been pledged to Soonerdom by his parents, Laura Focht Morgan, ’25 arts-sc., and Walter H. Morgan, ex ’25. Billy is four years old and lives at 1216 West 38th Street in Oklahoma City.

UNIVERSITY OF BOMBAY

Bombay, in its usefulness as an educational medium. It has given India some of her most notable leaders, social reformers, educators, statesmen and economists. I cannot resist the temptation of mentioning a few names of former students who have glorified their Alma Mater—the University of Bombay. Late Messrs. G.K. Gokhale, the educator and social reformer; Dr. R.G. Bhandarkar, orientalist and scholar; M.G. Ranade, outstanding justice of the supreme court of Bombay; Sir Pheroz Shah Mehta, Indian statesman; B.G. Tilak, popular political leader and author; Dr. Dada Bhau Naoroji, politician and ex-member of the British Parliament and last but not least, Mahatma Gandhi, barrister and most widely known Indian leader and Prof. D.K. Karve, champion of Indian women’s education, are only a few of the vast number comprising the alumni of the university.

Names of these notables are a conclusive proof of the well-deserved reputation enjoyed by the University of Bombay. May it be said to the credit of the University of Bombay, that her role in the sphere of higher education in India, has truly been most commendable and praiseworthy.
