Riding the Sooner Range

By Ted Beard

A CROSSED the Great Salt Plains from Salt Lake City down through the Moffet Tunnel de luxe, and into Denver, Colorado. A twelve-hour visit with the Denver, Colorado, Advisory Council, headed by Frank R. Kerlikow, 29ma, with all his able co-workers, Jim Bollinger, 18ma, and Gladys Scroggs Hawthorne, 10th, Guy L. Reed, 18ex, and Jack B. Deahl, 26law, readily convinces one of the keen interest displayed by the many and dozens of University of Oklahoma alumni in this thriving city of the West. Some time in November this Sooner group will have its first winter meeting and they promise a complete report for the Sooner Magazine. Indeed, there's a possibility that ROSSCO CATE, 26law, and myself will be out there themselves for this meeting. Of course, travel schedules to the various Soonerland Em- pires lead us in that direction at the assigned period.... So it's out of Denver and "Santa Fe" to the New Mexico for the next rendezvous of the alumni scattered throughout the world.

It would certainly be marvelous to be a "land plutocrat" and own even a small garden spot in the fertile valley of Garvin County on the Washita River, surrounding the City of Pauls Valley. The dozens of Sooner pilgrims that we find in Pauls Valley on this particular trip would readily convince one of the keen interest displayed by the many and dozens of University of Oklahoma alumni in this thriving city of the West.
