THAT Southwest again! Back home and it looks like the world's fair! A fairer time of counts had assembled that January evening for the 7 o'clock alumni banquet in the New Orienton Hotel at Altus. Just fifteen minutes late getting to the banquet table, but at that we had enjoyed seeing a lot of old friends in the lobby. BLAIR THORPE, '21—the neighbors must have been good to him as he has gained considerably in weight in these twenty-five years—or is it thirty some odd since we were in grade school together in the 'guy country' of Eldorado? A brief word with DUKE CULLEN, '21—of course never attended the University of Oklahoma, but he is ready to stoke the Coca Cola Bottling Company proverbial cork on rough waters. ROY H. DAVIS, '33—after dinner speaker, as usual, and made his most gracious bows in presenting the musical numbers at the banquet that evening, a student trio from the college.

The silent signal caller is the quiet but very efficient chairman of the Jackson County Advisory Council, PAUL E. FEARNS, '23, Ill bet that bird failed to get one bite to eat all evening. He was bounding around like the proverbial corgi on rough waters. ROY H. DAVIS, '23, of the senior high school was strutting his stuff with special introductions; while DR. JAMES E. KENYER, '28, mad another nodding head ready for the fireworks when I finally made it from the lobby floor. In this assembly was the University gang had beaten me to the draw. They were already as assembled at the head table ready for the fireworks when I finally made it to the lobby floor.
