FOR THE SECOND TIME in six months, the Class of 1926 scored in Life Memberships and as a result moved up the line into a tie for tenth place in class standings.

THE CLASSES of 1929 and 1921 also have new Life Members, increasing the total of the former to four and the latter to nine and moving it to fifth position.

THE THREE new Life Members in the University of Oklahoma Association are: Herbert H. Scott, '26as, 26M.A., T. Jack Foster, '28ex, and T. M. Beaird, '21as. Scott is one of the directors of the staff of the University department of public relations. Foster, a member of the Alumni association executive board, is Norman's city attorney and owner of the University Cleaners—600.

BEAIRD is one of the directors of University public relations, too. But this year he is on leave of absence and is State Personnel Director for the Works Progress Administration (WPA).

THE CLASS of 1914, however, leads all others in Life Membership with a total of thirteen. The Classes of 1913, 1912 and 1920 come next with ten each. Beaird's membership put the Class of 1921 next with nine.

A LIFE MEMBERSHIP costs only sixty dollars, payable either in a lump sum or five dollars a quarter. The fund is invested in high grade securities under the direction of E. R. Newby, Tom F. Carey and Neil R. Johnson. Only the income from the principal can be used for Association operating expenses.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION maintains a number of services and has a number of activities that are important to the University of today and to its reputation of tomorrow. As well as publishing The Sooner Magazine, the Association maintains a Teachers Placement Bureau for graduates, assists the University when help from its graduates is needed, encourages the organization of O. U. alumni groups throughout the state and country, and is interested in many of other important projects.
