JOURNALISM SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

Dr. Fayette Copeland, '18b, has announced scholarships for 24 University journalism students. The scholarships, given for the first time this year, were awarded by the McMahon foundation of Lawrence, Kansas.

The late Eugene B. McMahon, '15ba, established the foundation in 1940. He was a Texas industrialist and former editor of the Lansing News. Awards totaling $7,000 were presented to 10 freshmen, five sophomores, five juniors, two seniors and two graduate students.

Sophomore scholarships were awarded to Harry S. Culver, '47; Norma Shane, and Charles L. Ward, '48; Norma, graduate fellowships; L. D. New, Shane, and Jack Holman, Idabel, seniors.

Business Men Attend Conference

State business men, 250 strong, attended the Oklahoma Industrial and Mineral Industries conference September 30 at the University.

Registration began at 9 a.m. Friday when a continuous showing of industrial films were presented. Registration ended at noon when Homer Dunlap, Oklahoma City, president of the St. Clair Lime Company, presided at a luncheon.

Subjects considered at the conference included an inventory of further manufacturing possibilities from minerals, factors affecting location of industries and favorable and unfavorable factors and their remedies.

Speakers included Richard W. Smith, Washington, D. C., assistant manager of the natural resources department for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce; William A. Holloway, Kansas City, regional director of the bureau of foreign and domestic for the U. S. Department of Commerce; and Richard B. Tucker, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, vice-president of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

They're Bowl Bound

Amid rumors of bowl bids the proud Sooners closed out their 1949 Big Seven conference campaign with a 27-7 lashing of Missouri's Tigers. The win earned the Oklahomans their 18th consecutive victory and their second straight Big Seven crown.

In a season which has been noted for football upsets, the Sooners have managed to run pretty true to pre-season dopsters' form. One of the limb climbers who has found the limb pretty strong is Grantland Rice.

over Missouri tied a record set by Benny Owen's teams of the mid-teens).

3. Accepted a bowl bid. (They can have, if they win the rest of their games, a choice of top bowls except, of course, the Rose).

4. Placed one or two men on one or more All-American squads. (Walker and West appear the most likely with Owens, Royal and Thomas receiving mention).

5. Completely dominate the Big Seven All-Conference first team.

6. Gained the runner-up spot behind Notre Dame in the national ratings.

7. Have the coach of the year in Wilkinson.

8. Lead the nation in rushing and rushing defense.

That eight-point program should be enough to warm an Oklahoma partisan's heart.
