University Alumni serving with American forces on all battlefronts continued to make headline news last month. Five received decorations.

High honor was paid posthumously to Lt. Duane J. Clapham, '38bus, Norman, when he was awarded China's Meritorious Medal of the Army, Navy and Air Forces, First Grade, A Class, by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. Lieutenant Clapham was killed April 17, 1942 when the plane he was testing crashed in India. He could have saved his life by parachuting to safety, but chose to remain in the plane to keep it from crashing into a crowd of people.

For services rendered over, above and beyond the line of duty, in total disregard of his own personal safety, Lt. Thirl E. Jarrett, '36med, received the Navy Cross last November 9. On the nights of October 13, 14, 15 and 17, Lieutenant Jarrett cared for wounded men on Guadalcanal under heavy Naval gun fire from the enemy. His work consisted largely of administering blood plasma to the wounded. Lieutenant Jarrett, formerly a physician in New York and Norfolk, Virginia, is a member of the Navy Medical Corps attached to a Marine unit.

Capt. Paul Irving Williams, '34-'39, Norman, has been awarded the Air Medal for meritorious achievement in South Pacific aerial combat. Captain Williams, who already held the Silver Star, was one of 42 officers and men given the medal at the same time.

Lt. Lester T. Mooney, '41, Norman, has been decorated with the Silver Star for gallantry in action near Buna Village on New Guinea. Lieutenant Mooney is attached to an Infantry company. The dispatch announcing the presentation of the award, datelined Washington, February 8, carried no details.

Lt. (jg) Carl E. Carmichael, '34-'37, Hobart, has been awarded the Air Medal for his actions in the Aleutian Islands. He, along with eleven other Navy Fliers, has been engaged in patrol missions and bombing raids against the Japanese in the Islands despite severe weather conditions and determined enemy resistance.

Lt. Samuel A. Ray, '41eng, Oklahoma City, was killed recently in an airplane collision over Leicestershire, England. He had been stationed in England with the Army Air Force since last November. Before leaving this country he was on duty at Randolph Field, Texas and Drew Field, Florida. In civilian life Lieutenant Ray was a geologist with the Pure Oil Company in Fort Worth, Texas. While attending the University he was a member of Phi Eta Sigma scholastic fraternity for freshman men, Sigma Xi scientific research society and the Geological Engineers Club.

Lt. Paul M. Pitts, '39-'41, Poteau, was killed February 2 in the crash of an Army bomber near Bedford, Virginia. The plane was from the Army Air Base at Columbus, South Carolina, where Lieutenant Pitts, a pilot, was stationed. While attending the University he was a student in the College of Engineering and participated in intramural sports.

Lt. Randolph V. Donalson, '38-'41, Hollis, was killed last month when two Army medium bombers crashed near Newberry, South Carolina. Both planes were from the Greenville, South Carolina, Army Air Base. Officials were investigating reports that they collided in midair. Lieutenant Donalson was a navigator for one of the planes. While at the University he was a student in the College of Business Administration, member of the band, and an intramural debater. Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Donalson of Hollis.

Word has been received that Lt. Dan Burns, '38-'40, Albuquerque, New Mexico, has been missing in action since March, 1942. An Army Air Force pilot, he was stationed in Hawaii and failed to return from a flight. Lieutenant Burns received his wings at Coral Gables, Florida. He was a student in the College of Engineering and a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

Lt. George T. Holland, '39eng, Mount Pleasant, Texas, has been officially reported missing in action. He was with an Ordnance company at Fort Sutroenburg when war started and has not been heard from since the fall of Bataan.

Before entering the Army Lieutenant Holland was employed as assistant test engineer with the Atlantic Refining Company in Longview, Texas. At the University he was a member of Scabbard and Blade, Sigma Tau engineering fraternity, Rut Neks, and St. Pat's Council.

Lt. Wayne W. Christian, '39ba, member of the U. S. Marine Corps, was reported missing in action. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne B. Christian of Oklahoma City, received the notification early last month. Lieutenant Christian was commissioned in the Marine Air Corps on March 3, 1942, at the Naval Air Station in Corpus Christi, Texas. While training there he specialized in flying fast fighter planes, the type used on carriers. Before entering the service Lieutenant Christian was a salesman with the L. C. Smith and Corona Typewriter Company in Houston, Texas. He was a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Capt. Steve Maseo, '39eng, Henryetta, has been officially listed as missing in action by the War Department. No word has been heard from him since the fall of Bataan in May, 1942. Captain Maseo was stationed at Fort Huachuca, Arizona before going overseas. In civilian life he was employed by several oil companies, among them the Atlantic Pipeline Company of Dallas and the Shell Oil Company at Denver City, Texas.

Lt. Marvin H. Bryant, '37-'40, Hugo, has been missing in action since January 18, according to War Department notice received by his mother, Mrs. Maude Bryant of Hugo. Lieutenant Bryant, who received the Distinguished Service Cross last October for gallantry in action, was stationed in Alaska and the Aleutian Islands. At the University he was an anthropology major and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Lt. Leonard C. B. Jenks, '36ed, Oklahoma City, was reported a prisoner of war at a Japanese prisoner camp in the Philippine Islands. Lieutenant Jenks was a Civilian Conservation Corps officer until he entered the regular Army in 1941. He was sent to the Philippines in August of that year.

Cadet Jack Riley, '36-'40, Sayre, was injured recently when he bailed out of his training plane which had gone into a spin near Minter Field, California, where he was stationed. He sprained both ankles and received lacerations and bruises in a parachute landing. Cadet Riley was third
In a January 15 dispatch from Tel-Aviv, Palestine, A.P., Correspondent Paul Keen Lee told of going to a movie there with Capt. Jay E. Warner, 30th U.S. Army. "I was accompanied by Capt. Jay E. Warner of Oklahoma City and several other Americans. We sat in the front row, balcony, and Warner said it felt like Oklahoma City. The movie, a year old, was presented with both French and Hebrew subtitles. Mr. Lee said Tel-Aviv, where he had "the feeling of being not too far from home, in a spot much resembling a New York City suburb," is a favorite gathering place for American soldiers on leave.

Hens eggs are almost as scarce as men's teeth in North Africa, writes Lt. Fred Palmblad, 38 ba, Enid, now with the Signal Corps. Recently he and a fellow officer got hold of a couple of tomatoes by undisclosed means, found a quiet inconspicuous corner and ate a dozen pieces. Lieutenant Palmblad, formerly associated with radio station KCRC in Enid, wrote his mother about the episode, wherein he recalled that he always had been able to eat six eggs at a time and that being in Africa had evidently doubled his appetite.

Gratefulness for the package of Christmas gifts sent him by the Oklahoma City Red Cross chapter was expressed recently in a letter from Sgt. Malcolm McKenzie, Jr., 37-39, Enid, now with the Signal Corps.
