12th announcement, Lew managed to splutter that Guzzlers’ is also a fine hair tonic and deodorant.

The whole show ended with a take-off on the University by the boys of Phi Kappa Sigma entitled “Samoa the Same.” The scene, set in front of Samoa University, reveals a meeting of the board of regents. Freshmen complain about the location of their new dorm, Crossbones Center, and Dr. Crossbones himself tells the regents he wants to build a university “the head-hunting team can be proud of.”

This year’s Sooner Scandals, which packed in an audience of 5,000, mostly students, was directed by Don Lane, ’52ba, junior law student from Pampa, Texas.

Two More Titles . . .

of J. W. Mashburn, Olympic team member, who was declared ineligible because of grades. Without Mashburn, the team managed a fine second place showing and in the doing broke two conference marks. The mile relay team was clocked in 3:21 to shave four-tenths of a second from existing marks, and Neville Price leaped 24-9 to shatter the broad jump record.

Both track and swimming teams owed a share of their points to South Africans. Price represented that country last year in the Olympics as did Johnston. Dejong also is a native South African.

O.U.’s basketball team finished the season in fourth place in the conference with 5 wins and 7 losses. The overall season record was 8 wins and 13 losses.

Still to be decided before the winner of the all-sports competition will be known are the Spring sports—outdoor track, baseball, tennis and golf.

Regardless of the outcome, Oklahoma is showing once again the fine balance of her athletic program.

Attempting to keep the same balance another year, Bud Wilkinson and his staff are looking over the prospects for another year’s football team. Spring training opened with first workouts March 4.

Replacements must be found for Billy Vessels, Eddie Crowder, Buck McPhail and Tom Catlin plus other graduating seniors, if the team is to offer serious opposition to Notre Dame, Texas, Pittsburg, Kansas, etc., next fall.

With the abolishment of football specialists, following the NCAA’s substitution rule change, the players will be playing both offensively and defensively next fall. Spring training closes with the annual Alumni-Varsity game April 11.

As spring drills opened, the coaching staff was without the services of Dee Andros, ’50ed, assistant line coach who accepted an assistant coaching position with the University of Kansas.

It appeared that Gomer Jones, line coach and assistant athletic director, might leave the University in early February, also. He was interviewed for the head coaching position with Southern Methodist University. The uncertainty was put to rest when SMU named another coach to fill the vacancy.
