

Jack Davis, an actor. Her other two children are dead.

APPOINTED BY HARDING

Mrs. Davis, only woman to hold that office, was appointed chief of the Seminoles by President Harding in 1922. She succeeded her brother, John F. Brown Jr., who had served 30 successive years.

Mrs. Davis was born near Parkhill in the old Cherokee nation Sept. 10, 1852.

Her father was a government physician, John F. Brown, of Scotch Descent and her mother a Seminole princess of the Tiger clan. The young doctor met his bride during the original trek of the Seminole from Florida to Oklahoma territory. He flaunted tribal laws to marry her.

After the Cival war, Mrs. Davis moved with her parents to Greenhead Prairie, Pottawatomie county, Oklahoma, after residing at Fort Gibson during the war between the states, At Greenhead prairie they were neighbors to the Jesse Chisholm family of "Chisholm trail" fame.

MOTHER OF TEN CHILDREN

In 1874 Mrs. Davis married George R. Davis of
