

What were the names of the twins belonging to Sitting Bull. Who was their mother?

Is it true that twins are ~~regarded~~ considered wakan by the Sioux?

They say that Sitting Bull was made head war chief about 1867. What did he have to do as a war chief? Did he lead small war parties? Or did he lead the whole tribe when they went to war? Or did he decide what the warriors ought to do? I would like to know what the war chief was supposed to do. Because the books say that Sitting Bull was not a war chief, and that- if he was- he did not do anything. I want to get the truth.

The Cheyenne have a man who led the whole tribe to war- the Keeper of the Cheyenne Medicine Arrows. He carried the arrows towards the enemy, and then sang a song against the enemy, making them weak. After that, his people would charge. This was a kind of war chief. Did Sitting Bull do anything like that in time of war? Did he keep any sacred thing belonging to the war chief?
