Dear friend:

Some how or other your January letter got mislaid. I remember receiving it, but at that time my nerve was very low, and I was quite worried, so I am glad you have written again.

Now about the questions regarding Sitting Bull. When I met him at Fort Randall, I was with my teacher Miss Burgess of Carlisle. Her and I came back to Dakota with another boy and a girl to let the Indians see what we were learning. Altho' the four of us were together at that time our teacher was the only one to speak to Sitting Bull. She spoke to him through an interpreter. We were all quite young at that time, in fact we did not realize that Sitting Bull was a prisoner in his own camp, even tho' we saw soldiers walking around. That was before my three years education was completed. You see I was only 11 years old when
