

mishemah = worm or insect?

O'go'ch or O'go'chi or O'go'ki—the crow. In the Ghost dance the crow is the messenger of the spirit world. The messiah and God are frequently spoken of as "The Crow." See Arapaho song 36.

Ogo'gae—"the crow woman;" from o'go'chi, crow.

Ohoni'stuts—the shinny game. See Cheyenne song 9 and Arapaho song 7.

O'ivima'na—"scabby;" a Cheyenne division.

Otiä—now! well!

Otiä-si-Tä'niuw'—"pierced-nose people:" the Cheyenne name for the Caddo.

O'tätawo'm—greenish.

O'täta'womemäpewä—for Otiä'tawo'm-mäp-ivä. In the greenish (bluish) water, or river. O'tätawom, greenish; mäp, water.

O'tu'günü—a Cheyenne division. The meaning of the name is unknown.

Owa'ni—living things, creatures, animals (including quadrupeds, birds, insects, etc).

PÄGÄNÄ'VO—"striped arrows," from päga, arrow, and nävo, striped; the Shoshoni and Comanche name for the Cheyenne. See also Shiä'navo.

Pinä'tigü—a Cheyenne division. The meaning of the name is unknown.

Pam—the "crazy dance" of the Cheyenne; pa, crazy. It is somewhat different from the Arapaho crazy dance. See Cheyenne song 10 and Arapaho song 43.

Sa-sis-e-tas—the name used by the Cheyenne to designate themselves, according to Clark. It should be Dzitsi'stäs q. v.

SHIÄ'NAVO—another Comanche name for the Cheyenne, probably a derivation from the word Cheyenne.

SHIÄDA—another Wichita name for the Cheyenne, probably a derivation from the word Cheyenne. See also Niererik-wats-käni'ki.

Snabeo Shishino'wits-tä'niuw'—"snake people," the Cheyenne name for the Comanche.

So'yänia—"southerners;" Cheyenne name sometimes used to designate the southern portion of the tribe in Oklahoma.

STAITAN—a name used by Lewis and Clark to designate a tribe identical with the Cheyenne. It is a corruption of the Cheyenne word histä'itän, "I am a Cheyenne."

Sütasi'na or Süta'ya—"strange talkers" (Clark), one of the most important Cheyenne divisions and formerly a distinct tribe.

Tseä'nehü'si—for Tsi'änu'ias.

Tsenovi'tütse'stovi—for Tsenow'i'tätsi'stovi.

Tsenow'i'tätsi'stovi—where there was gambling. Nä'now'shi, I gamble.

Tsi'änu'ias—(when) he flew down. Nä'miha'-u, I fly; nä'nuiha'-u, I fly down.

Tsinitäi'womai'wosihi—for Tsi'unitäi'womai'w's.

Tsinitäi'wosi'hi—for Tsi'unitäi'w's.

Tsi'shistä'hisih—for Tsi'shi'stäs.

Tsi'shi'stäs—where she belongs, i. e., her home. Compare Dzitsi'stäs, the name given by the Cheyenne to themselves.

Tsisoso'yotsi'to—while I was going about. Näsoso'yots, I go about, I ramble about.

Tsi'stamo'nohyot—when I first reached him, when I arrived where he was.

Näta'hyot, I shall reach him.

Tsistäwo'moh—she (he) will see them.

Näwo'm, I see him; stawo'matsi'mh, I see you; tsitäwo't, he (she) will see it; nä'stisi'womätsinoh, by that means I shall see you (plural). Compare Nä'vishomh.

Tsitäwo't—she (he) will see it. Compare Tsistäwo'moh.

Tsi'unitäi'womai'w's—where they are painted in different colors; tsi'unitäi'w's different; mai-tümh, paint.

Tsi'unitäi'w's—different, various.

Tü'gani—the Cheyenne name for the Wichita; evidently a derivative from their Comanche name, Do'kana, tattooed people.

Ugu'chi'hiki—for O'go'chi.

Veta'chi—for Vichk.

Vichk—grease, used in painting or anointing the face and body.

V'i'nänätu'uwä—kill a beef or buffalo for him (imperative). Nä'nätun, I kill it; nä'nätu'uh, I kill it for him; hoiwo'te, a beef.

Witäpü hä't or Witäpü'tu—the Cheyenne name for the Kiowa; from their Sioux name Wi'tapähä'tu, people of the island butte.

Wi'tapi'u—"haters" (Clark); a Cheyenne division.

Wosi'vä—a mountain.

Yä'häyä'—an unmeaning exclamation used in the songs.

Yu'suwu'nutu—for Ho'so'ewo'nät.

hichk = pinew

fat