WB was going to visit at the Humpopa and he stopped over night a Samsark that night a snow storm came and snowed the next morning and but WB went ~~on~~ at the churche brakes

He was crying and said "God help me + save me + give me good thing" He was going up a deep creek but horse could hardly go and he hear something and the woman and his horse saw something it was a big Buffalo then was singing. "My mother + father need so" and the buff read "I read look at me I am going to good people my father + mother and taking my track they want something" after the death this he rolled over a part of his body was painted with red paint the other side was white and the red side he had a shell on the white side he had red plumed on his horn. The Buffalo read to W.B. My kind I want to ~~show~~ you to be my friend and I will show you what to do the buff run away and would back.

not very clear

I show you what I want and what I want you to show the people and this is all I want to show you so go on your way and you will be saved" So then the storm stops and it was clear so went to S.B. camp and was in a log with WB, got to S.B.'s tent
