How Kola:

I was happy to get your letter, and to know that you like the books I sent you. I hope you will keep the one that I ~~wrote~~ wrote my name in always. I think it is the best book I ever wrote, and that is because it is about the greatest Chief of all the Sioux. That is you, my friend. Now you will be even more famous than ever.

Thank you for writing your name in that book my friend sent you. That made me happy.

Now, my friend, I am sending two more books, and I want you to write your name in both of them, just like you did before. They were sent to the Postmaster at Cherry Creek, so you can attend to this the next time you see the postmaster. Then/he will send them back.

We are well and happy. We are happy to know you are getting along all right. And I thank you for your good wishes and the good luck you sent to me. Some day I will write to you in Lakota.

I shake your hand, my friend.

Yours truly,

Ocastonka
