

The crier again announced that Sitting Bull further donates the meat of another buffalo brought back by Sitting Bull to the five oldest men in the camp, who were suffering for want of meat. Five very old men ran up to Sitting Bull, thanked him and sang praising him for his greatness of heart toward the aged.