

January 13, 1929.

Dr. Tyler Dennett,
State Department,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

Owing to unforeseen circumstances I am compelled to postpone my visit to Washington during the week following January 18 and so will be unable at that time to take advantage of your kind offer to permit me to see correspondence relating to Sitting Bull in Canada. I greatly appreciate your kindness in this matter and hope to be in Washington sometime this Spring at which time I trust I shall see you.

Yours very cordially,

W. S. CAMPBELL.