

VI - In one of the books I find a story telling how Kicking Bear started the Ghost Dance at Sitting Bull's camp and how McLaughlin sent some police to stop it and arrest Kicking Bear. The book says that the policemen came back without him, saying that his medicine was too strong. Do you know anything about this and what was said when the policemen came to the camp after Kicking Bear?

One Bull miye na Gna-skingan-mani, ena
Catka, lura wawayanka he en ca pi ca McLaughlin un ku'si pi na wacipi kin he ayustan pi kta on un ku'sipi.

Gna'skingan mani waci pi ayustan nicasi
unkan Sitting-Bull ayu ptin na nege.
Micinsa wa ya wapi kta kin he sotan yelo
a wonspe tipi wan yuha man ke lo.
wowasi kin le iyotan 'sni yelo eyelo.

toksa ayustan pi kta lo, eyelo.

(X) Ho leet McLaughlin ho'si un kaki pelo.

Gna'skingan-mani naham'rai ni un melo.

I, Oz Bull, in company with Crazy Walking and Catka, were all serving in Indian Police Force. McLaughlin ordered us to stop the Ghost Dance.

Crazy Walking told the dancers to stop. I B. answered him as follows: "The education of my children is uppermost. I have a school in my locality. This dance is not the most important undertaking. I will, eventually, stop."

This is what we reported to McLaughlin upon our return.

Crazy Walking is still living.