

I heard that Sitting Bull lost his father and his brothers in wars with the Crow Indians. I would like to know about this and where and when these men were killed. Was Sitting Bull there when it happened?

H'ante - oje wakpa oinkpa el Maga - ju paha el Tatanka - psica, Kanji - wicasa natan a hi, tka Kuwa awicaya pi na wanji Kici iya Kici tipa ya, isa Ta Tanka - psica mila on ca pa pa pi na kte pi.

Kanji - wicasa wingan na wakan he ja ko mungan nawise papi. huna waya ^{ka} awicaglipi na Tatanka - Dyatanka gu pi na wisaktepi cimpi isa Tatanka - Dyatanka heel cin 'sri. na heye tanyan wica yuhapo huna nipi ktelo.

Ate wica ca wiconte kin he Tawa ca ognate lo.
Hee swasin zanyan ta oyate pi ekta Kiglapci.

Rainy Butte, at the head of Cedar Creek, took place a battle Sioux and Crows. The Crows made a charge on the Sioux but were repulsed. In this fight Jumping Bull and a Crow warrior had a hand to hand combat in which Jumping Bull was stabbed and killed.

Crow women and children were behind and were captured and brought ^{to} Sitting Bull.
The Sioux wished to kill the Crow captives but S.B. did not wish this done. He said: "If you intend to do this for my sake - take good care of them and let them live. My father is a man and death is his."
They were released at once and returned to their people.