

In one of the books I find a story telling how Kicking Bear started the Ghost Dance at Sitting Bull's camp and how McLaughlin sent some police to stop it and arrest Kicking Bear. The book says that the policemen came back without him, saying that his medicine was too strong. Do you know anything about this and what was said when the policemen came to the camp after Kicking Bear?

I, One Bull, incompany with Crazy Walking and Catka, were all serving on Indian Police Foree. McLaughlin ordered us to stop the Ghost Dance. Crazy Walking told the dancers to stop. Sitting Bull answered him as follows: "The education of my children is uppermost. I have a school in my locality. This dance is not the most important undertaking. They will, eventually, stop."

This is what we reported to McLaughlin upon our return.
Crazy Walking is still living.
