

Crows and Sioux engaged in a fierce combat. Sitting Bull and a Crow Indian shot at each other. The former killed the Crow. Sitting Bull was shot in the foot.

No. 10 -- "I am not going" Do with me what you please." "I am not going."

There was a big battle at the mouth of the Rosebud. Sitting Bull's band of fighters fought the following tribes; 100 Crow Indians, 100 Blackfeets, 100 Utes, 100 Apaches, 100 Shoeshones, 50 Rees, 100 Indians who live in straw or grass huts, and a regiment of soldiers, under Three Stars. The tribes herein mentioned all retreated back to where the Soldiers were. Those who took part were as follows; Old Bull, One Bull, Appearing Bear, White Hand Bear, Bobtail Bull, Swift Bear, Gray Bull, Elk Nation, Chasing Eagle, Red Bird, White Swan, Red Fox, Bear Soldier, Black Bear, Flying By, Pretends Eagle, Bear Shield, Little Moon. The above are all living. They belonged to the Hunkpapa clan. This battle was fought after the sun-dance and before the Custer battle. Often-kills-enemy, Ears, White Crane Walking, Iron Star, Lone Man, Breaks-up, Strikes the Kettle, Sitting White Bull and Good Crow. These men were wounded. The following men were very brave in battle; Black Crow, Good Bear, Male Crow, Charging Hawk, Shoots Enemy, Red Feather, Long Dog, Iron Thunder, Crazy Horse, Black Fox, Runs-without-fear, Against Cloud, Spotted Elk, Iron Magpie, Charges, Little Elk, Bullhead, High Horse, Fighting Bear, Looking Horse, Little Bear, Crawler, (Crawler or Slohan or Hunka-yapi was camp crier for the Lox Lodge) (fz) Fishes in Kettle, Little Wound, Feather-in-Hair, Magpie Eagle, Has Horns, Young Bear, One Elk, Two Moon, Sitting Bear, Intestines, Big Bear, Black Bear, Red Bird, Bone Club, Rain-in-the-face, Call Bear-scars-away, Red Dog, Loves War, and Gray Eagle.

Sitting Bull went west beyond the Little Bighorn mountains and brought back a buckskin horse. The tribe he took this horse from, lived in straw or grass tents. Another big battle took place near the mouth of some river