

7

A french Canadian trader of the west, who at the time of Sitting Bulls arrival, was trading at Wood Mountain - Jean Louis Regare by name is the man that should get full credit for Sitting Bulls, Surrender - Jean Louis Regare fed Sitting Bull & his party the winter following the General Custer massacre out of his own private means. - Giving them good advice as sincere admiration for their Surrender to the United States Authorities, at Wood Mountain. - After Corresponding with the American Government on the subject of getting Sitting Bull & his party back to the States - Jean Louis Regare was eventually offered the sum of $22000<sup>00</sup> when ever he could induce Sitting Bulls party to return - a free pardon was offered them - As I know personally Jean Louis Regare, and as the gentleman asked me to write for him on different occasions whilst making his contract, I know most of the circumstances pertaining to the Surrender. The very fact that he was the man that got paid for his expenses in taking over Sitting Bull & his party to the States, and delivering them to the Authorities, ought to be sufficient proof that he was the responsible party and means of the Surrender.