

Sometimes a great leader finds his own men against him. Then, sometimes, he will tell them that he is going to quit, if they do not obey him. Then they decide that they cannot get along without him, and he is stronger than ever. Did you ever hear any story about Sitting Bull like this? When? Where? Who was there? What was said and done?